Family Grocery Bill Up Again In August

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Higher prices for everything from peanut butter to pork chops helped push up the family grocery bill again during August, according to an Associated Press marketbasket survey.

The survey showed that the marketbasket has risen 11 per cent so far this year and prices are 14 per cent higher than they were 12 months ago.

The AP checked the prices of 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest check, at the start of the Labor Day weekend, provided little encouragement for consumers.

More than 40 per cent of the total number of items checked went up during August. Eggs were up in every city checked — although they generally were cheaper than a year ago when $1-a-dozen eggs prompted consumers to seek other sources of protein.

Sugar continued its seemingly relentless rise, increasing in 11 cities during August. Pork chops were up in eight cities, reflecting higher prices paid to farmers for their hogs. Peanut butter, which had remained fairly steady in price, went up in six cities last month. Coffee was up in eight cities.

The AP survey showed that during August the marketbasket went up in every city surveyed except Dallas, Tex., where it dropped by a penny or a fraction of 1 per cent. The average increase was 4 1/2 per cent. During July, the AP marketbasket rose in all 13 cities.

On the average, the bill for the marketbasket was 23 per cent higher than it was on March 1, 1973; 14 per cent higher than it was on Sept. 1, 1973; and 11 per cent higher than it was on Jan. 1, 1974.

The Agriculture Department says that food prices will continue to rise during the rest of 1974, but at a slower rate than previously. The department recently upped its estimate of how much the over-all 1974 increase would be, boosting it from 12 to 15 per cent because of the recent drought that damaged the corn crop and is expected to mean higher prices for meat, milk and poultry.

The sugar increases have been the largest in the AP marketbasket. Since last September, the price of a five-pound sack of granulated sugar has risen an average of 143 per cent, jumping from 74 cents to $1.80. The increases ranged from 129 per cent in Boston, where the price went from 79 cents to $1.81, to 202 per cent in Atlanta, where it rose from 64 cents to $1.93 over the 12-month period.

During August, the price of sugar was up in 11 cities, rising an average of 6 per cent, and unchanged in one city. In the 13th city, sugar was unavailable on one of the check dates.

Grade-A medium white eggs went up in all 13 cities during August, rising an average 12 per cent. But in every city except Albuquerque, N.M., they were lower than they were last September, down 19 per cent.

The AP survey covered Albuquerque, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

The items on the checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice, coffee, paper towels, detergent, fabric softener, butter, eggs, peanut butter, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With eggs and pork chops leading the way, Ohio food prices generally rose again in August, a nine-city Associated Press survey disclosed.

Eggs jumped 40 per cent and center cut pork chops advanced 23 per cent.

The combined cost of the 16 selected items in the AP marketbasket was $16.94.

A five-pound bag of sugar climbed from an average in July of $1.63 to $1.80 in August — or about 9.2 per cent.

Shoppers can expect sugar prices to continue the trend upward during September.

Amstar Corp., the nation's largest sugar refiner, recently boosted the price of sugar to food processors by $2.25 per 100 pounds.

On the retail market, a five-pound bag of sugar in Ohio has gone up more than 100 per cent in the past year.

Spiraling sugar costs are expected to lead to higher prices for soft drinks, ice cream, candy and other foodstuffs with high sugar content.

This means that chocolate chip cookies, which August's marketbasket survey showed as increasing only around 1 per cent, could climb sharply in September.

The greatest extreme in prices in Ohio was found in potatoes. A 10-lb. bag sold for as little as 79 cents in Massillon and as high as $1.99 in Lima.

Chuck roast was second, selling at its lowest, 69 cents a pound, in Massillon, and its highest, $1.49, in Van Wert.

A 12-ounce jar of peanut butter went up 2.4 per cent over July's average price of 59 cents, while a 49-ounce container of detergent rose from 96 cents in July to $1.06 in August.

Massillon was the cheapest of all the cities to shop, reporting a total price of $14.98 for the 16 items.

Athens was the most expensive, with a total tab of $18.36.

The marketbasket included hamburger, chuck roast, chicken, pork chops, milk, margarine, peanut butter, eggs, toilet tissue, bread, sugar, potatoes, coffee, detergent, cookies and orange juice.

Cities checked were Akron, Athens, Cleveland, Columbus, Conneaut, Lima, Massillon, Van Wert and Youngstown.

National Health Insurance, Tax Reform Face Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders seeking to bolster the record of the 93rd Congress are eyeing national health insurance and tax revision as two top priority items in the closing weeks of the session.

But any chance of action in these controversial areas runs headlong into the desire of most members of Congress to end the 1974 session before the Nov. 5 elections.

Most of the leaders concede there is no chance of getting legislation on either subject to President Ford unless the session reconvenes after the elections.

The Senate returns Wednesday from a Labor Day recess, and the House resumes a week later.

Congress has considerable other business remaining and it is doubtful that it can meet its Oct. 15 target date for adjournment even if it shoves health insurance and major tax legislation.

The House Ways and Means Committee has been struggling with the complexities of national health insurance for weeks.

Before the recess, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., threw up his hands and said it did not seem possible to reach a satisfactory compromise this year.

But Senate sponsors of measures in the field say they have not given up hope. In his first speech to Congress as President, Ford asked on Aug. 12 for passage of a health insurance bill during this Congress.

Sens. Russell B. Long, D-La., and Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., are still pushing their proposal to protect some families hardest hit by medical bills.

It would guard all persons against the huge costs of a catastrophic illness and would improve the present program of health benefits for low-income families.

Ways and Means has written a far-reaching tax bill, and Mills has pledged to get it through the House in September.

However, it seems unlikely that the Senate Finance Committee could conduct hearings on this measure, draft its own version, and get it passed by the Senate and into conference with the House before December.

Some members argue that all

Congress can do this year is to pass those provisions of the House bill aimed at windfall oil-company profits.

The legislators also might be forced to return after the elections to complete work on the nomination of Nelson A. Rockefeller to be Vice President if his extensive financial holdings lead to lengthy hearings.

Congress still has to send to the President 7 of the 14 appropriations bills needed to run the government in the present fiscal year.

Coal Miners Open Pact Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Mine Workers presented an inch-thick list of demands ranging from higher wages to safer working conditions as crucial contract negotiations began today with the nation's coal operators.

UMW president Arnold Miller and his team of negotiators sat down at the Hay-Adams Hotel with representatives of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association in an effort to reach agreement on a new industrywide contract before the present three-year pact expires Nov. 12.

The union represented 115,000 miners who produce about 75 per cent of the nation's coal.

Miller and Walter C. Wallace, president of the operators association, were expected to discuss the union proposals at a news conference scheduled later in the day.

Miller met privately with President Ford on Monday at the White House's invitation, a session which underscored the administration's concern over the contract talks. Although both sides are hopeful of reaching a peaceful settlement, most industry officials expect a strike.

Details of the union's proposals have not yet been released, but spokesmen have said the package is broad enough to allow UMW negotiators plenty of room in which to bargain.

"I don't have to tell you we don't get everything we want," Miller told a Labor Day rally at Danville, W.Va. "When I think we have everything we can get, I will ask you to ratify and not until then."

But while some areas are open to bargaining, the BCOA team is expected to face hard union positions on certain issues that will form the core of Miller's proposals. Among them are:

Wages. Because of inflation, Miller wants wages advanced from the present $42.50-$50 range and feels industry can afford higher pay now that coal prices are soaring. The union also wants an escalator clause to cope with higher consumer prices in the future.

—Mine Safety. The UMW especially wants to broaden and clarify the rights of mine safety committees to shut down mine sections when conditions are considered unsafe. A spokesman said the union's proposals would give "the man on the job the right to protect himself. They would represent a very strong step forward ... the basic right to have some say over the workplace."

—Job Bidding. The union wants promotions strictly on the basis of seniority, while industry prefers a qualifications system. This could be one of the more intensely debated issues, as promotions have been one of the most frequent causes of the wildcat strikes that plague the mines.

Additional private issues will be streamlined grievance procedures, sick pay (the miners currently have none), and increased per-ton royalties paid by the companies into the miners' Welfare and Retirement Fund.

If talks bog down on any of these key points, or if the package presented to the miners for ratification does not treat them to the satisfaction of the increasingly militant UMW members, the chances of a lengthy strike after Nov. 12 increase sharply.

Super Synthetic Motor Oil To Last For 40,000 Miles?

DETROIT (AP) — A small petroleum firm is promoting a new "super" synthetic motor oil for autos it says can last up to 10 times longer than conventional lubricating oil.

Pacer Petroleum Co., of Houston, Tex., says its sales are "growing like weeds." But Detroit's Big Three auto makers say they aren't ready for an oil change. They are making tests of their own, however. And they are interested.

Pacer's Sol Levy says cars using the firm's EON E-11 synthetic oil can go 40,000 miles between oil changes. U.S. auto makers recommend conventional oil changes every 3,000 to 6,000 miles. Levy also says E-11 provides better protection for engine parts, causes less engine wear and results in better fuel economy than petroleum oils.

However, E-11 sells for $5 a quart, compared with less than $1 a quart for conventional oil. But Levy says in the long run it is less expensive because E-11 users buy one-tenth as many quarts over 40,000 miles of driving.

Outside the auto industry, synthetic oils are not new. Germany developed them during World War II and the aircraft industry has used them for years.

About a half dozen companies market such oils. Pacer is the first to offer the product nationwide for auto owners.

Levy estimated more than 250,000 cars now use the product, and the company expects $6 million in sales this year.

"It's just unbelievable the way it's taken off," he said.

Pacer is advertising heavily in Detroit, a market which can make or break a new auto product. Ads plug E-11 as the oil used in Houston police cars and boast the oil "never needs to be changed."

The auto makers, while not rejecting Pacer's claims outright, express skepticism about the "super oil." They say synthetic motor oil needs more testing before the firms can either reject or recommend it for use in their cars.

Hurricane Carmen Leaves 3 Deaths In Yucatan Wake

MERIDA, Mexico (AP) — Hurricane Carmen lost much of its force early today as it crossed the Yucatan peninsula and headed into the Gulf of Mexico, but was expected to regain strength as it moved over open water.

Three dead were reported in its path.

The storm's broad and disorganized center was located early today about 50 miles east of Campeche at latitude 19.1 north and longitude 90.5 west, and the center winds had dropped to a minimal hurricane force of 75 m.p.h.

Carmen was expected to move into the Bay of Campeche today, but forecasters at the National Hurricane Center in Miami said it was too early to predict what areas of land might be threatened once the storm reached open water.

With top winds of 175 miles per hour as it hit Yucatan's east coast Monday, Carmen was the strongest storm to come out of the western Caribbean since Hurricane Hattie in 1961. But though Hattie killed 250 persons in Belize, the capital of what was then British Honduras, the only casualties reported so far from Carmen were three persons drowned last weekend near Kingston, Jamaica.

Carmen hit Yucatan in the southern part of the state of Quintana Roo, and Gov. David Gutierrez reported late Monday night: "We have material damage such as destroyed homes, fallen trees and electric and telephone lines. But there are no victims."

The governor said he was sending plane crews today to two villages on the coast that had not been heard from.

Other sketchy reports from Chetumal, the capital of Quintana Roo, said at least 2,300 of the town's 10,000 people had been driven from their homes, and tides were 15 feet above normal.

Carmen moved slowly across the Yucatan peninsula Monday, advancing at less than 10 m.p.h. Only small settlements of Mayan Indians were in its path, and the noted, centuries-old Mayan ruins were considerably to the north.

Meanwhile, Becky, the season's first hurricane, was downgraded to a tropical storm as it continued to lose strength today in the open North Atlantic far from land.

Ford Presses Inflation Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — With praise from George Meany for his forthright approach, President Ford is marshaling his forces to combat the cost of living surge.

Ford confers twice today with his economic advisers to move along plans for the White House conference on inflation. The inflation parley of economists, political figures and business and labor leaders is set for Sept. 27-28.

L. William Seidman, executive director of the conference, joins Kenneth Rush, the President's economic counselor, and Alan Greenspan, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, in meeting with Ford in the morning.

An expanded group of economic advisers then will meet for an hour with Ford in the afternoon.

Ford also received some unofficial economic advice Monday when Meany, in a Labor Day radio address over CBS, urged the President to lay out for the public what Meany said were the hard facts of inflation, recession and unemployment.

Meany said "the past five and a half years of deceit and deviousness" have caused people to blame government — not business and labor — for the nation's economic woes. But that will change under Ford's administration, Meany said.

"Straight talk is this President's long suit and that is what the country and her people need," he said.

Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, went on to assert that the current inflation is not caused by excessive demand and, therefore, that "budget cuts, high interest rates and tight money — which might be appropriate weapons against excessive demand inflation — simply will not work."

Instead, the Ford administration should seek to increase home construction, end exports of scarce commodities, create a public service employment program and close tax loopholes, Meany urged in his broadcast address.

Another labor leader, Arnold Miller, president of the United Mine Workers, met with Ford on Monday and promised his union's support for the inflation conference.

Miller was among some 200 representatives of business, labor, Congress and the Ford cabinet who witnessed the signing of the pension bill, formally known as the Employee Retirement Income Security Act.

Weather

Rain diminishing by early afternoon, high, mid 60s. Variable cloudiness and cool tonight, low near 50. Partly cloudy and cool Wednesday, high, mid 60s. Probability of rain decreasing to 20 per cent by tonight and 20 per cent Wednesday. Temperatures Monday were: high, 75; low, 56.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today as a technical rally that began Friday coasted to a stop.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 2.42 at 676.16, while gainers clung to a modest lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said it appeared the market was back in the grip of concern over inflation and the general economic outlook after an upward bounce described as a normal temporary response to the sharp slide that had hit Wall Street for most of last month.

Magnavox was the Big Board volume leader, unchanged at 8 1/2 in a series of medium-sized block trades. The stock is the target of an $8-a-share tender offer by North American Philips.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .13 at 70.15.

Dear Friends,

Most cemetery regulations now require the use of a burial vault, which serves not only to protect the casket and mortal remains, but to facilitate the perpetual care in cemetery maintenance.

The selection of a burial vault is usually made with the casket selection and likewise, a wide selection in various cost ranges is available.

State Fair Ends; Plagued By Rain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 1974 State Fair came to an end Monday night with sprinkles of persistent rain that marred the last several days and probably prevented a new attendance record.

Still, officials of the 12-day exposition were heartened by record gate receipts and the fact that total attendance went well beyond the two million mark.

They listed admissions for the final day of 124,861 and said the final day's figures brought the 1974 total to 2,167,296. That's 56,243 less than last year's record 2,223,539.

Gate receipts were above last year as a result of higher admission prices. This year, adults had to pay $2 instead of the former $1.50, while children's admissions went from 25 cents to 50 cents. Children under 12 were admitted free up to noon each day, however.

Fair officials said the official figures on the gate receipts will not be available for several days when an audit is completed. The exposition is not intended as a money maker, and the policy of free grandstand entertainment, started several years ago, usually means it just about breaks even.

Robin Rager, 18, of Amanda, reigned during the final day as Miss Ohio State Fair, having been chosen from among 22 other queens of various organizations. She plans to enroll this fall at Capital University in Columbus.

Patricia Reinking, the Ohio Hampshire Queen, was the first runner up in the fair pageant, and Debbie Lawson of Rossburg, Ohio, was the second runner up. Bonnie Bolinder of Circleville was third.

The final grandstand show was billed as "Solid Gold" and featured several stars of rock 'n roll with an "oldies but goodies" presentation.

Entertainers included the Shirelles, Chubby Checker, Gary U.S. Bonds, the Four Seasons, and Bo Diddley.

Super Joe Einhorn, a California motorcyclist, had planned to make a 140-foot jump over 14 parked cars but decided at the last minute to tame his stunt down a bit. He jumped 10 cars after explaining that a cast on his arm made him decide on something less spectacular.

Telethon Garners $16 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon has received more than $16 million in pledges to fight muscular dystrophy.

Lewis, national chairman of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, said people ignored their own economic problems to help fight the neuromuscular disease.

"When other people are in trouble, they don't look at their own problems," he said.

When the 20-hour-long telethon, broadcast from Las Vegas to 174 stations throughout the country, went off the air at 6:30 p.m. Monday, a total of $16,129,213 had been pledged, which beat last year's record of $13.7 million.

RESOLUTION NO. 77-A
WHEREAS, the Village of South Bloomfield, State of Ohio, a municipal corporation desires to acquire a sewage plant treatment and disposal site upon and from certain lands owned by the State of Ohio which formerly constituted premises owned or operated by the Ohio and Erie Canal and is resolved by the Village of South Bloomfield, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That the aforesaid municipal corporation does hereby and herein formally request that title to and ownership of the premises herein-after described as Exhibit A be received from the State of Ohio, Ohio Department of Administrative Services, Division of Public Works, Bureau of Real Estate; and that the tract of land under consideration is a part of File 0-153, Lease Number O&E-1815.

Section 2. That the premises described on Exhibit A attached hereto and incorporated as a part of this Resolution by reference shall be used for the purpose of the construction and operation of a sanitary sewage plant, plus means of ingress and egress thereto and therefrom for the public use and enjoyment of the inhabitants and citizens of said Village.

Section 3. That the transfer of title to the premises described on Exhibit A attached hereto, being a part of certain lands now owned by the State of Ohio be vested in the aforesaid municipal corporation be a Quit Claim Deed from the Governor of the State of Ohio, as authorized by Section 123.682, Revised Code, State of Ohio.

This resolution shall take effect at the earliest time prescribed by law.

Immigration Service Shifts Drive Against Illegal Aliens

By WILLIAM C. WERTZ
Associated Press Writer

A drastic increase in the number of illegal immigrants, coupled with a shortage of manpower and funds, has forced changes in federal efforts to apprehend aliens, an immigration official says.

Some district offices of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service are curtailing their requests for help from local law enforcement agencies in the capture and holding of individual illegal immigrants, the official said.

"We are concentrating our efforts in other more productive areas," Vern Jervis, a spokesman for the INS in Washington, D.C., said on Friday.

Jervis said local law enforcement officials do not have the authority to pick up illegal aliens unless they have broken some law.

But he said city and state police departments have been notifying the INS when they became aware of illegal aliens after arresting them for some crime.

"This is one of our least productive areas. It takes the most amount of our time to send a man out for these individual cases, and it costs the most money," Jervis said.

In Chicago, assistant district director Robert Germain said investigators would concentrate their efforts on intercepting large groups of illegal aliens being smuggled in from Mexico to work in city factories.

"We are just not going to be able to respond to situations in which individuals come to our attention. We just don't have sufficient resources to continue doing all we have been doing," said Germain.

"We're in a tight bind," said Robert Seitz, a spokesman for the INS Southwest Regional office in Los Angeles.

"There will be places where we tell local we're not going to pick up anyone out of the jails. We're not going to be conducting cold searches where we don't have leads, and we're going to be concentrating on leads we know will be productive," Seitz said.

"There's no question that with more resources we would apprehend more. It's just a question of priorities," he said.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Researchers Researched

Will Rogers liked to poke fun at the investigations which were going on all the time in Washington. It was a wonder, he once mused, the investigators weren't kept busy just investigating other investigators.

Something like that is about to happen at Temple University. The School of Business Administration is researching statistics — who uses them and why. The study will be financed by a $130,000 grant from the National Science Foundation.

After the researchers gather their statistics on people who use statistics, an obvious corollary question might be: why do organizations such as the National Science Foundation spend good time and money on such pursuits? There is no end to the avenues such a study might lead to, including the multitude of studies continuously under way within numerous federal agencies.

A look at some of the results of those studies, as published by the Government Printing Office, is no credit to the field of research. Someone may be interested in learning why a certain specie of African toad croaks the way it does, but certainly not the sponsoring taxpayer.

Job In Ford's Future?

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — When President Gerald Ford leaves office — and right now that would seem to be on Jan. 20, 1981 — he can get a high-paying job as host of a TV series built around the experiences of his grandfather, Wyoming pioneer Charles Henry King.

The show would be a natural, in the tradition of "Gunsmoke," "Bonanza" and all the other horse operas on which we (including Ford) have been raised, including two that starred prominent Republicans: John Wayne in "Stagecoach" and "True Grit," and Ronald Reagan as the host and spokesman for Twenty Mule Team Borax, the super sudser, "Death Valley Days."

Here's a rough outline of some of the events and characters that might be seen in "The Jerry Ford Show" (circa 1981). The preview is through the courtesy of historian Edness Kimball Wilkins of the Star-Tribune, Casper, Wyoming:

"The Kings were originally from Omaha, but like many men in those days of the early West, C. H. had various business interests in several communities along the expanding railroad systems. (Ed. Note: Can't you see that old Golden Spike being driven once more, while Geronimo and his savages peer down from yon peak?)

"It is said that C. H. and C. C. P. Webel, another early-day merchant, had been involved in trading with the Indians on one of the reservations before coming to Wyoming Territory," Wilkins continues, perhaps with a hint of disapproval. "They had arrived at Ford Fetterman before there was a Douglas or Glenrock or Casper, in anticipation of the development that would be following the arrival of the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley Railroad, now the Chicago and Northwestern. The F.E. & M.V.R.R., however, encountered problems in obtaining a right-of-way through certain U. S. military property, so overnight the plans were changed and the rails were laid nine miles to the south, where a new town was platted and called Douglas."

"Most of the Fetterman citizens followed the railroad's change of plans, loading up their tents and shacks and moving to the new location, always with the hope that the new town would be the big town — the 'end of the line' — and they would be in on its growth."

"When the railroad continued building west in 1887 with a new terminal town planned, many of the men who had been at Fetterman and later at Douglas came on to the place that was to become Casper, after pausing briefly at Glenrock or at the temporary location later referred to as 'Old Town.'"

"I have a faded picture showing a large sign across a frame building advertising 'C.H. King & Co., Groceries and Provisions.' It is a picture of Old Town in 1888. A copy of my father's newspaper, the 'Wyoming Derrick' under date of May 21, 1891, carries an advertisement for 'C.H. King & Co. Bankers. Do a general banking business. Exchange sold in Omaha, Chicago and New York. References: Chase National Bank, New York (Ed. note: Rockefeller's, right?); First National Bank, Chicago; First National Bank, Douglas."

"By 1899, King also had a general store at Kaycee, a site that after the sensational Wilcox Train Robbery on the Union Pacific, was to become part of the saga of the Wild Bunch, the Butch Cassidy Gang, or Hole-in-the-Wall Gang, as they were known in Wyoming. After the train robbery, the gang had split up in accordance with their escape plans. Three of them 'Flat Nose' George Curry, Harve Logan, also known as 'King Curry' and one of the Roberts boys heading for their 'Hole-in-the-Wall' hideout."

"They had finally reached the Salt Creek Country with a posse led by famous Sheriff Joe Hazen, of Douglas, closing in. It was then Sheriff Hazen was fatally shot from ambush by Kid Curry. The three bandits escaped the posse and headed on for the Kaycee country. A terrific rain that had turned central Wyoming into a sea of mud, however, finally forced them to abandon their weary horses. Taking to foot, slipping and staggering through the bottomless mud of the plains, with huge lumps of gumbo clinging to their boots at every step, hungry and exhausted, they finally reached the John Nolan ranch."

"They ordered young Jobe Gant, Nolan's brother-in-law, to go to King's store at Kaycee and get them some food and dry clothing, giving him a watch for himself and money for the supplies. The King store was being run by Alex Cunningham. After hearing Gant's description of the three desperate men, Cunningham realized they were part of the Hole-in-the-Wall bunch. So while loading supplies, he carefully urged Gant to tell Nolan to get Mrs. Nolan and their two little girls out of the ranch house for safety, warning him that the posse was near and a deadly battle might be fought at the ranch."

"The bandits, having secured fresh horses and supplies, again headed for the Hole-in-the-Wall, once more escaping the posse . . ."

(Ed. note: tune in next week.)

C. H. became the wealthiest man in Casper. He and his family including President Ford's father-to-be, Leslie King, lived in the most stylish house in town . . . a rambling green frame mansion with an extensive yard, barns, carriage sheds and what seemed in those pioneer days, luxuriant shrubbery and flowers," Wilkins writes. Then adds a scene which will be a howler in "The New Jerry Ford Show." Goes like this:

"Like many other Wyoming families in those days of inexpensive household help, the Kings at one time employed Japanese men as servants for the house and yard, a practice that was regrettably ended by the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-1908 when the men gave up their jobs and returned to Japan to fight for their homeland."

"My mother had stopped to see her good friend Mrs. King one day and found her in hysterics because Harry, the Japanese cook, had chased her out of the kitchen with a butcher knife after he decided to show the rather dominating lady of the house that he was top boss in the kitchen."

Can't miss.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A consumer psychologist has a suggestion for some of those statistic-minded economists who now are pursuing their presidentially encouraged talks of reviewing the causes and solutions of inflation:

Don't assume that consumers respond like automatons. If you admit they act like human beings rather than numbers you won't have to keep repeating that lame excuse: "People didn't act as anticipated."

Prof. George Katona, who for years headed the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan, challenges some of the bedrock assumptions on which economic thinking rests.

To illustrate, many economists believe that in times of inflation people must be encouraged to save and admonished not to spend. But, Katona says in effect, people already are motivated to do so. They need no encouragement.

Not that they always do save when inflation rages. When the fear of shortages or mistrust in the dollar's value are added to the equation, people might act the very opposite. They rush to buy while they can.

Katona, widely regarded as the founder of consumer surveys as they exist today, related some of his views and findings in a paper prepared for an American Psychological Association meeting in New Orleans last Sunday.

Consumers and others do not always react in the predicted manner because of the presence of optimistic or pessimistic attitudes which have their origins in past experience, trust in government, financial condition and the like.

Too often, Katona suggests, economists accept the simple proposition that all there is to inflation is "an insufficient supply of goods in relation to the demand for them at existing prices."

Such an attitude, he said, ignores a mass of relevant material on how people perceive the supply-demand ratio.

Price controls, for example, are viewed by Katona as psychological as much as legal. During World War II and in 1971-73, he said, it was shown that price controls work only if people cooperate with them.

"Governments are powerless to enforce controls if very many businessmen and consumers disregard them . . ."

At the present time the psychological climate creates some serious obstacles to dealing with inflation, Katona says. He maintains "there prevails a lack of trust in government," which lowers expectations of overcoming prices.

Fighting inflation, he concludes, "calls for creating conditions in which optimistic and confident attitudes arise rather than expectations of rapidly rising prices."

The Ten Commandments are an integral part of the Judeo-Christian ethical system and represent the divine law, engraved on two stone tablets and given to Moses by God atop Mt. Sinai.

Even though there was no precipitation during the last four days of August, the Circleville District ended the month with a mark of 1.75 inches above normal. However, the present level of 1.97 feet is only .02 feet more than the same date a month ago. And in July, rainfall was 1.5 inches below normal.

Members of 4-H clubs in Pickaway County walked away with a number of top prizes at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus.

Circleville Elks Bowling League for the 1954-55 season was being formed, according to Robert Wood, president of the organization. Seeded men were Marion Good, William Betts, Otto Guenther, Art McGran, W. Zahard, and Richard Bowers.

Four of Columbus' prettiest models were to be in Circleville to sell advanced tickets for the important upcoming stock car race at Circleville Speedway. A parade was also planned.

Priest Abducted

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The Rev. Edward Stolze, 38, a Roman Catholic priest from Dayton, Ohio, was abducted and robbed at a motel here Monday.

After being taken at knifepoint, he was released unharmed 2½ hours later in Cincinnati. Father Stolze said he was forced into a car by four men who robbed him of $24.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I was treated for syphilis when I was 19. After two years I was told that I was completely cured.

Now I want to get married. I am 31 years old. I am afraid that they will find signs of it in my blood. I have never told my family or my fiancée about it.

I live in a new town and even my doctor knows nothing about it. How should I go about straightening this mess out?

Mr. M.L.J. Mich.

Your sense of responsibility to your fiancée is confusing a problem that can be readily solved. Since you have been actively treated and pronounced "cured" of syphilis you need have no fear of transmitting this disease to your wife, especially if immediate blood studies are negative.

It is essential that you see your new doctor and honestly present the entire history of your exposure to syphilis and your treatment so that he can thoroughly evaluate your present condition. Besides the Wasserman test there are other highly sensitive tests and so-called "provocative" tests that can free you from the bondage of fear.

The confidentiality between you and your doctor will be strictly observed.

The Wahoo

By JIM BISHOP

The Sandpiper lifts her white bows on the swells and heads out of Key West. She's middle-aged and strong and deliberate, like her skipper. He's Bob Hare, a sun-squinted C.P.O., U.S. Navy Retired. He sits on the flying bridge with a thermos of ice water, watching for brown weed lines and birds diving into the sea for small bait.

The ocean is as empty as the sky. The engine exhausts gargle in salt water and the sun bounces white hot coins off the slow-moving waves. Kelly sits in a starboard fighting chair, waiting. She is a venomous fisherman, one who lights one cigarette after another, waiting for the clothespin to snap when a game fish strikes.

I have seen her fight a 400-pound lemon shark for an hour, the sweat dripping hot and salty from her brows, and I have seen her battle so hard that both feet went through an ice chest and cubes rolled over the deck like dice. It is something I have never understood in a pale, feminine blonde.

Kathi is in the port fighting chair. I can read her mind, too. At 19, she hopes nothing will hit the line, because she is afraid she might "goof." Captain Hare points downward. The Sandpiper is passing over a big reef, and the sunlit coral on the bottom changes the color of the sea to pale green.

Far below, the spiny sea urchins look like black chrysanthemums against the stumpy branches of living coral. The Sandpiper makes its own breeze, but sun and sea are hot. We are headed toward Havana, 80 miles over the horizon.

Ernest Hemingway fished these waters for the big bills, and he fished the north coast of Cuba, too. He is gone and so is his boat, Pilar. But he drew a joy from the waiting, the cold sweat on cans of beer, and the clean shiny leap of marlin when the run was good.

We dream our separate dreams and wait. When Kelly and I had our own boats we often waited until the sun stuck its tongue out to lick the edge of the sea. The whole game is the waiting, because no man knows when — if ever — a strike is coming.

We are an hour out. Key West is a smudge of sand astern. We swap lies with the mate, and Kelly's eyes are slits, watching the ballyhoo skip on the surface. The clothespin snaps and the sea reel works itself to a high whine as the line spins out.

She is caught with a cigarette. She takes the rod from its socket and fights it to the fighting chair. She snaps on

Only after thorough examination, if there is no residual evidence of syphilis will your doctor recommend you continue with your marriage plans.

This is the reason that all states require positive proof that blood is free from syphilis before a marriage license is issued.

While I am on the subject I must add that venereal disease now exists in epidemic form among teenagers and young adults. The ravages of untreated syphilis are devastating.

Syphilis is probably one of the most destructive diseases that man is heir to. The late effects of this disease can involve every organ of the body and leave devastation in its path.

Sexual promiscuity is responsible for the current expansion of the ravages of venereal disease. Just two irresponsible carriers of venereal disease, gonorrhea or syphilis, can, in a matter of months be responsible for mass infections numbering in the thousands.

This should give readers some idea of the magnitude of the problem, and how important it is for parents, doctors and health authorities to continue the educational campaigns against this problem.

the drag and the pole bends. Whoever he is, or whatever he is, he runs away at top speed. The fight is on. She accepts no help except to remove the cigarette from her lips.

Hare stops the boat. We secure the other lines from fouling. I look for something to leap skyward, but it doesn't happen. It has to be a barracuda or a bonito. She fights him in, inch by inch, foot by foot. It's an eight-pound bonito, hooked fair and gasping and bigeyed.

She wants more of the fights and gets it. A fresh ballyhoo is out and the line snaps again. This time, he sounds deep, then gives up. When she boats him, all that is left is the head. "There is something big out there eating my fish," she says.

She is right. Something big and fast. It happens again. Kathi applauds her mother. The kid's line sings out. She's new to this, more scared than elated. With the drag on, the fish is pulling line out faster than she can reel in.

She must learn to do it alone. The heavy pole bends. I tell her to pull back against her chest and reel in only as she moves the pole toward the fish. She tries. Hare sees a fish leap straight up toward the sky, twisting in a full gainer as he tries to foul the line.

"Wahoo," he yells. It can't be. I have known fishermen to try for 15 years without catching one. They have been clocked at 40 miles per hour underwater and they can watch and eat anything they see. They seldom go for a trolling line.

Kathi fights it. The little muscles on her arms stand up like baseballs. She grunts with the pain of the struggle. "No slack!" the mate yells. "No slack!" in 10 minutes, we can see him, long and silver in a clear sea, darting from one side of the boat to the other.

Suddenly, the determination of her mother shows through. Her mouth is open and she is grinding her teeth. The sweat on her face shines like diamonds. She brings him alongside, and a big, beautiful wahoo comes up. The kid has done what her Old Man couldn't.

She mops her face and arms and drinks a coke. At the end of the day, the Sandpiper is docked. Fishermen crowd around to admire the wahoo. "Who caught this one?" they ask. Kathi shakes her head with disbelief. "Me," she says softly. "I did it."

Moral: Keep the women off the damn boat . . .

MRS. RAY FREDERICK MOWERY

Candlelight Ceremony Performed In Lancaster

The candlelight ceremony uniting in marriage, Miss June Ellen Bender and Mr. Ray Frederick Mowery, took place 7:30 p.m. Aug. 3rd, at the Sixth Avenue Methodist Church in Lancaster. The Rev. Simeon Brandyberry and the Rev. Doane Wiggins, a close friend of the bridegroom, officiated the double ring ceremony.

The altar was accented with a unity candle centered in an arrangement of mixed white summer flowers with huckleberry foliage and Baker fern, single candles in gold holders, side arrangements of draped Baker fern sprays and seven branch candelabra garlanded with greenery. The aisle was marked with globed single candelabra.

While guests were assembling Mrs. Tim Swinehart contributed a program of wedding music and was accompanist for Mr. Swinehart, on the trumpet, who played a group of songs which included "The Bridal Chorus," "Liebestraum" and "The Lords Prayer," just preceding the benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a full length gown with a Bardonna lace yoke and sleeves lavished with pearls which flattered the high neckline of the silk sheer peau bridal gown. A lace panel extended from the slender waistline in front of the A-line skirt, separated with a deep inverted pleat to the hemline. Her detachable train completely edged in narrow lace fell from the waistline floating into chapel length. A large white sheer organza picture hat draped with silk illusion veiling with panels of veiling and satin ribbon streamers touched with clusters of orange blossoms and reaching below the train of the gown completed her ensemble. The bride carried a bridal gathering arrangement of stephanotis and dainty Boston fern fronds. Miss Bender's only jewelry was a heart shaped diamond pendant, a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. Kelly Hannan.

The attendants' gowns, identical in design were halter styled in floral shades of pink, rose and a touch of leaf green chiffon over pink taffeta, featured a tucked fitted bodice with the hip hugging skirts flaring to the hemline into a deep ruffled flounce. Deep rose, narrow satin ribbon encircled the waist ending in front into a cravat bow and streamers. A matching ruffled stole held in front with a square knot fell over the shoulders. Organza loops with streamers and flowers matching the rose color in the gowns were worn in their hair. The bridesmaids and matron of honor carried white lace fans with an arrangement of pink roses, ivy and variegated pittosporium foliage with green streamers.

Mrs. Michael Hyland, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward Kirchner, Cleveland, O., Mrs. Rick Axline, Newark, O., and Miss Daphne Halderman, Kansas City, Mo.

Miss Shelli Ann Hyland, niece of the bride was flower girl. Shelli Ann wore a floor length gown of white organza and lace with a double row of ruffles on the skirt, she carried a small lace fan with pink roses and pink miniature carnations with foliage.

Mr. James Minor of Circleville, served as best man and wedding guests were seated by Mr. Robert Eitel and Mr. Edward Boyer of Circleville, and Mr. Ron Wychoff of Logan.

The wedding reception was held in the church social rooms with Mrs. Don Maddux and Mrs. Robert Eitel, sister of the bridegroom serving as hostesses. Attending the guest book was Miss Susan Fowler. Traditionally the bride's table was centered with a four tier cake decorated in pink and white wreathed with Baker fern tips and baby's breath topped with an arrangement of pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

The couple departed for a honeymoon to Michigan and upon their return established a home in Lancaster.

The new Mrs. Mowery, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bender, 206 E. Fair Ave., Columbus is a graduate of Lancaster High School and Ohio University where she received her degree in elementary education, she will be teaching in the Berne Union School system this year. She is also a model for the Noni Modeling Agency in Columbus.

Mr. Mowery is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Mowery of West Liberty, formerly of Circleville. Mr. Mowery is a graduate of Westfall High School and Otterbein College with a degree in education. He is now employed as head basketball coach at Bern Union School, Sugar Grove.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Mowery at Shaw's Restaurant.

The former Miss Bender was complimented during her pre-bridal days at showers given by Mrs. Robert Eitel and Mrs. Paul Thompson, Circleville and also by Mrs. Eric Devore of Detroit, Mich. and Mrs. Sam Foltz, Lancaster.

A basic set of cooking utensils should include two skillets (7 or 8 inch and 10, 11 or 12 inch). But if you are planning to do a lot of cooking and to try a wide variety of recipes, you'll find it convenient to have four skillets (6, 8, 10 and 12 inch size).

Tarlton Methodist Church Setting For Wedding Vows

MR. AND MRS. JAMES A BIGHAM

Tarlton United Methodist Church was the setting for the 7:30 p.m., Aug. 2nd, wedding of Miss Kathy Ann Pine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pine, Route 4, Circleville, and Mr. James A. Bigham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Bigham, Route 1, Kingston.

The Rev. Raymond Welch performed the double ring ceremony. Two baskets filled with yellow roses, gladioli, daisies and fern, flanked with candelabra, enhanced the altar.

Prenuptials music was presented by the organist, Mrs. Dale Fogler, and vocalist, Mrs. Bill Jenny, a cousin of the bride.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by both her parents. For her wedding, the bride made a formal length gown of white crepe. The bodice with bishop sleeves, featured a high neckline and the A-line skirt flowed softly to fullness at the back. The bride's floor length veil of illusion was edged in lace matching that which trimmed the gown and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses, carnations and daisies.

Miss Joyce Pine, maid of honor, wore a long gown with an empire bodice of yellow polyester print which she made. She carried a long stemmed single yellow rose.

Miss Jean Ann Bigham, bridesmaid, was in a long empire gown of green polyester with an empire bodice, she had made. She also carried a long stemmed single yellow rose.

Mr. Tim Bigham performed the duties of best man for his brother and Mr. Alan Pine escorted the guests to their seats.

The bride's mother wore a pink print polyester knit dress with long lace sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink knit dress. Corsages for both mothers were of pink carnations.

A reception in the social rooms of the church immediately followed the wedding. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow roses and lilies of the valley. Hostesses were, Mrs. John Clifton, Mrs. Ralph Yingling, Miss Joyce Bettendorf, an and the bride, Miss Susan Pine presided at the guest book.

Special guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bettendorf, Mrs. Pat Thacker, Mrs. Kenneth Ulrich, Miss Joyce Bettendorf, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Diestelhorst, all of Illinois; Mrs. Elwin Brubaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bigham, Michigan. Mrs. Elwin Brubaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bigham, Michigan. Other out-of-town guests were from Circleville, Rockbridge, Laurelville, Stoutsville, Clarks Lake, Grove City, Columbus and Amanda.

The couple resides at Route 1, Kingston, following a wedding trip to Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Canada.

Civil Rights Cases Speeded

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Burt Silverman, newly appointed head of the Ohio Civil Rights Commission, looked at the mounting stack of cases slated for his first commission meeting and said:

"There must be a better way."

So he set a committee to work on finding an alternative to the lumbering process of having each case—4,313 of them last year—brought before the commissioners.

The committee has promised him an answer by the end of the month, Silverman said.

"I think something can be worked out so that many cases can be resolved rapidly and equitably at lower levels," he said.

Looking for better ways may well become the motto of the 55-year-old Toledo public relations man named last month by Gov. John J. Gilligan as OCRC chairman.

Silverman feels that conciliation should be used to settle disputes, so that both sides get a fair shake.

"The problems we are dealing with are human problems," he said. "I don't think you should use an iron hand and force a decision down the throat of either the minority or the majority."

Silverman attributes much of today's backlash to the way racial problems of the 60s were settled.

"Everybody tried to make up for 400 years of injustice in one fell swoop," he said.

Silverman is also against quota systems, feeling employees should be hired on their merits.

"But I think businesses have an obligation to train minorities to help them become qualified," he said.

Silverman said the commission sets up a system of goals and timetables for companies that have been found to discriminate against minority groups and women.

Under this system, he said, the company is expected to hire certain numbers of minority persons or women by certain future dates.

"These are not quotas," he quickly points out. "It's saying to the company that we want to see some evidence of good faith in hiring practices and in moving people upward."

Silverman believes discriminatory housing patterns are the root of many racial ills.

"If people are segregated in ghettos," he said, "what incentive do they have to work hard and become better citizens. Until we can break housing patterns, they will affect education, employment and everything else."

Silverman said his long-range goals as OCRC chairman are simple.

"I want to make the commission work even more effectively than it has in the past," he said.

Mobile Home Guide Disturbing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's mobile home industry is alarmed by a booklet entitled "Mobile Home Buyers Guide."

The Ohio Department of Commerce put the booklet out earlier this month.

The publication lists what it calls "myths" and answers them with what it calls "facts" in buying mobile homes.

"The fact that it lists myths and facts encourages the idea there is something shady about the industry and its practices," said Gene Keener, executive director of the Ohio Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Association.

Keener admits the industry has its problems, but he said it offered to work with Commerce Director Dennis Shaul in solving complaints and coming up with a mobile home buyers' guide that could be of use to both the industry and the consumer.

"Instead, they took the testimony of three dealers, three manufacturers and 22 consumers—28 people in all—and came up with a misleading booklet," Keener said.

The industry spokesman said 175,000 Ohio families live in mobile homes—a total of about 400,000 quartered in the movable dwellings.

He said the commerce department received only 164 answers to a questionnaire it sent out to mobile home owners.

"Our industry is just like any other," said Keener. "We have our problems. But, we wanted the department to do in-depth study, not something like this."

During two days of hearings late last year the department displayed on the wall outside a hearing room pictures of faulty mobile homes.

"We wanted to show pictures from the other side, showing some nice mobile home parks and other aspects of mobile home living, but they wouldn't let us," said Keener.

Keener denied the industry had threatened to go to court to stop publication of the department booklet as Shaul said it had when he announced distribution Aug. 6.

"We have other remedies to counter the booklet which we will use," said Keener.

He didn't explain what they were.

Shaul said more than 80 per cent of the Ohioans buying homes under $15,000—recreational vehicles were not included in the study—bought mobile homes.

"We had a high number of complaints," Shaul said.

Many of the mobile home owners who testified claimed they were unable to obtain service for repairs covered by warranties.

Xenia Awarded Grant And Loan

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a $3.5 million grant and a $2.1 million loan to Xenia for redevelopment of 10 square blocks of the downtown area destroyed by a tornado April 3.

Approval was announced at City Hall Friday by Frank Warbington, an aide to U.S. Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio.

The application was filed with the Columbus HUD office Aug. 19 after two months of preparation.

Paul Lydens, who heads the office, said the 10-day processing of the application was one of the fastest in HUD history.

Gilligan Proclaims Hunting, Fishing Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan has proclaimed Sept. 28 as Hunting and Fishing Day in Ohio, coinciding with the national observance.

Gilligan said hunters and fishermen always have been in the forefront of the wildlife conservation movement and noted Ohio sportsmen help pay for the effort through license fees and taxes on sporting equipment.

HEAD-ON—Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Warren Straley completes the investigation of a car-truck accident, 8:50 a.m. today on the Bolender-Pontious Road, south of Route 188. Drivers of both vehicles were approaching the hill unable to see each other. Glenn Ray Easterday, 28, 100 Hillcrest Dr., driver of the pickup, was referred to a doctor for abrasions and lacerations. Bernadette A. Dunham, 25, Route 5, driver of the car, was taken to Berger Hospital and transferred to Dr. Hedges office where she was treated for injuries to the mouth, left hand and right knee. No citations were issued.

Developer's Settlement With FTC Said Too Easy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission announced acceptance today of a negotiated settlement which is the commission's opening wedge in a broad investigation of the $6-billion-a-year land development business.

The five-member commission unanimously approved the settlement despite complaints from other law enforcement officials that the FTC was going too easy on GAC Corp. of Miami.

In originally proposing the settlement last March, the FTC had cited GAC with using misleading tactics in selling land in Florida and Arizona. Much of the land is in Florida and cost buyers $1,500 to $2,000 per parcel.

The commission has about 30 other land developers under investigation.

The settlement, which was offered for public comment before final action, required GAC to provide buyers with cash refunds valued at about $2.8 million and replacements in other GAC developments for lots valued at $14 million.

The refund provisions were attacked as too meager by the Iowa attorney general and the interstate land sales office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The HUD agency, which administers federal laws requiring registration and full disclosure by land developers, estimated the $2.8 million in cash refunds would be inconsequential compared to the $30 million lost over the last six years by GAC customers who stopped paying on their property.

The FTC provisions covered only a fraction of the customers who stopped payment because it permitted GAC to keep the down payment and first 30 monthly payments as the company's cost of selling the land.

Women Aid In Capture Of Escapee

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Two women, one of them 82 years old, helped capture an armed prison escapee three weeks after he pedaled to freedom on a bicycle, police said.

Dillard J. Haggard, 38, was captured on Monday by Boise police who were alerted after the 82-year-old woman chased him from her kitchen and the other pushed him out of her yard. Authorities said Haggard was armed with a .38 caliber pistol, but never used it.

Haggard, a convicted robber serving a 15-year-term, was working on an Idaho Penitentiary detail at the home of Director of Corrections Don Erickson Aug. 13. Officers said he broke into the Erickson's house and stole liquor, a gun and a bicycle, on which he pedaled away.

Early Monday morning Madge Hardin, 82, said she heard someone in her kitchen. Police Sgt. Clinton Bays said Mrs. Hardin yelled at the man to "get out or I'm going after my son-in-law."

"It was a pretty good bluff. The suspect took off running," Bays said. He said Mrs. Hardin doesn't have a son-in-law.

Mrs. Hardin called the police. As they began to search for Haggard, police received a call from Jean Kearney, who reported that a man with a gun had been in front of her house.

"She was worried about her daughter's safety, so she jumped and pushed Haggard over and he fled across the street and hid in the weeds," Bays said. Police found him in the weeds and arrested him.

Cold Spell Covers Much Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A record-breaking cold front rolled across the Plains and plunged into the South today, pushing heavy rains in front of it.

Temperatures in the 30s were common overnight in the Plains and northern Midwest with record lows for the date set at North Platte, Neb., where it was 33, and Minneapolis, Minn., with 36. Lincoln, Neb., with 40, and St. Joseph, Mo., at 48 also were record lows for the date.

Just before midnight, the front established Sept. 2 records for many Plains cities, including a 47 at Amarillo, Tex.

Frost warnings were posted in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Man Nabbed In Phony Fire Calls

Charges are expected to be filed this afternoon against an 18-year-old Circleville man who allegedly phoned in a false alarm to the Circleville Fire Department Sunday, according to Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe.

The fire department dispatched a pumper and three men to 584 E. Franklin St. 8:45 p.m. Sunday after receiving a call that the house was ablaze.

Police apprehended the suspect shortly after the fire department arrived at the house. He claimed the call was a "joke."

Chief Wolfe, who said the department has been receiving "too many false alarm calls from this area of town," said the phony calls were following a pattern.

There have been three false alarm runs in the vicinity in the past six months.

Each call costs the city "several hundred dollars," he said.

Additional Charges Filed In Break-In

Additional charges have been filed against two Cleveland men in connection with the attempted theft of drugs at the Super-X Drug Store, Lancaster Pike Shopping Center, Friday morning.

James V. Dosztal, 24, the man apprehended inside the store by Circleville Police Sgt. Jerry Smallwood and Ptl. Kenny Henn, and Dennis Jameson, 22, the man police say helped him, face a battery of charges.

They will appear in Municipal Court Tuesday afternoon to make pleas on charges of breaking and entering, safecracking, grand theft, possession of criminal tools, and vandalism.

Jameson also faces a charge of possession of marijuana.

Police believe the man found with Jameson, Lawrence Reines, 23, was not involved in the attempted theft. He is however, charged with possession of marijuana, his second offense for the crime.

Police Sgt. Larry Pontious said Tuesday that Dosztal has admitted stealing hard narcotics from drug stores in 11 cities.

Their pleas are expected to be taken by acting Municipal Court Judge William Samuels of Ross County, sitting on the Pickaway County Court, 2 p.m. today.

Grand Jury Seated Today

Nine jurors and three alternates were selected this morning to serve on the September term of Grand Jury. They were instructed by Judge William Ammer that they would meet on the first Friday afternoon of each month from now until the January Grand Jury is seated.

Judge Ammer advised the group of jurors and alternates that their job was threefold involving attitudes of diligence, secrecy and impartiality. In order for an indictment to be brought forth against an accused person, seven of the nine jurors must agree.

Jurors seated were Ralph Edgar Bivens, Jean Louise West, Russell Orren Doddroe, Robert R. Werner, Dale Eugene Orihood, Rosabelle Henn, Robert Eugene Moon and Alfred Frederick Axe. Alternates selected were Sue Carol Roan, Charles G. Parsons and Elvin Worthington.

The court appointed Robert Moon foreman of the jury and Mrs. West deputy foreman.

Let's keep America the land of opportunity.

Historically, America has been "the land of opportunity." But "opportunity" is becoming a threatened species.

The opportunity to work and to achieve a better quality of life is threatened by the increasing problem of energy supply.

The energy crisis that seemed so big and vague and far away gets closer every day. Industry especially has become acutely aware of energy shortages. And every business and industry in America depends on an ample supply of energy to provide job opportunities for a work force that increases by over a million every year.

It's ironic that the emphasis on natural gas price regulation and demands for immediate and far-ranging environmental controls on oil delivery dampen the very hope for a cleaner environment, for better housing. Because the solutions to most of our other national problems depend on having sufficient energy to solve them.

Standing still, or keeping things just as they are, may be fine for some people. But for all the rest who strive for the opportunity to better their lives, we must have more energy. More gas, oil, clean-burning coal and electrical generating capacity to keep America the land of opportunity.

Columbia Gas is working to help solve the energy crisis. There is still a lot of natural gas deep underground in America. Columbia is test-drilling to depths of nearly four miles for this clean gas energy. This makes the cost of exploration and discovery more expensive. But, when you consider the alternative of less energy, we think you'll agree the price is not too high.

COLUMBIAGAS

Gas is precious, pure energy . . . use it wisely.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

'Bathe With Abby'

DEAR ABBY: What would you say if I told you that a supposedly sane 50-year-old man refuses to take a bath without your column? If for some reason our newspaper ever quit printing it, I am sure he would rot.

As if this isn't bad enough, he is truly convinced that sometimes his wife tries to destroy the paper before he gets an opportunity to "bathe" with Abby.

Is he crazy, or just eccentric?

APPALLED DAUGHTER
DEAR ABBY: Neither. He's adorable. Please ask him not to splash. I hate to get my hair wet!

DEAR ABBY: I love my husband, but sometimes I would like to wring his neck.

We have two kids, five and seven and Joe keeps nagging me for more. He says he "loves" kids. Well, I love them, too, but he is making it very hard for me to raise them right.

If I say no, he says yes. When I tell the kids to go to bed and they beg to stay up later, he says: "Aw, why do you have to be so strict? Give 'em an extra half hour." And he says this right in front of the kids! If I don't go along with him, I am made to look like the mean one.

You always say the husband and wife should be on the same team, but how do you get a husband on your team when he always wants to be the "hero?"

CAN'T WIN FOR LOSIN'

DEAR CAN'T: Tell the "hero" (and not in front of the kids) that children NEED to know what they may and may not do, and parents who allow themselves to be manipulated are doing their children an injustice. Mom and Dan should make those decisions together and stick with them. Always be fair and just. But firm. That's parental love in action.

DEAR ABBY: I am living at home and my boyfriend, who lives out of state, is on a very limited income, so

Presidents May Meet At Border

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford plans to be in Philadelphia Thursday for the convening of the Continental Congress as part of the nation's bicentennial celebrations.

The President plans to fly to Philadelphia for the ceremony Thursday evening and return to Washington that night, a White House official said on Monday.

A presidential spokesman said he did not think Ford would make any statement on amnesty for draft dodgers and deserters while in Philadelphia.

In 1776 the Continental Congress met in Philadelphia and declared the 13 American colonies independent.

he has been writing airmail postcards instead of letters. He writes every day.

My mother has been reading his postcards. I am sure of it because she seems to know everything he has written on them. He sometimes gets a little mushy and also writes some short poems which I consider beautiful, but very personal.

I told my mother that I would appreciate it if she would NOT read my postcards, and she said anything written on a postcard could be expected to be read by the mailman and anyone else who handled it.

Abby, I feel that if a person has real character he will not read even a postcard. What do you think?

DEAR OKIE: I think it is foolish to expect that which has been written on a postcard to remain confidential. Suggestion: Give your boyfriend his Christmas present early, and send him some airmail postage stamps.

Lottery Chief Will Attend Saxbe Meet

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ohio Lottery Director John Kirkland and lottery counsel Atty. Steven T. Parisi will join governors and lottery officials from 12 states next week at a meeting with U.S. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe in Washington, D.C., an Ohio lottery spokesman said Friday.

Justice Department officials have indicated the fate of the nation's 13 state lotteries could hang in the balance.

"Kirkland has a great interest in any meeting on lottery operations and certainly would want to be present at any discussion of the lotteries' future," said the Ohio Lottery's chief spokesman, James Skelly.

"Lottery officials will be working individually and collectively to resolve any conflicts between lottery operations and federal law to stay in business," Skelly added.

Skelly was responding to Saxbe's announcement earlier Friday that the Justice Department may go to court to shut down the lotteries.

In telegrams to lottery officials and governors of states which run lotteries, the attorney general called a meeting Sept. 6 to discuss the situation.

"There is a distinct possibility that there are violations of the criminal provision of the federal code," Saxbe wrote of the lotteries.

The Justice Department indicated Saxbe's concern centered on possible violation of federal law prohibiting purchase and distribution of lottery tickets by mail, circulation of the tickets in interstate commerce and statutes governing when banks may act as escrow agents.

"Ohio does not have a subscription plan and thus does not solicit out-of-state sales or sales by mail," Skelly said.

But he said the lottery commission still is considering a subscription sales scheme.

"We're watching developments at the federal level and in other states very carefully," Skelly said.

Saxbe indicated banks may be in violation of the law if they sell tickets to retailers and hold receipts for the state.

"Ohio banks don't sell lottery tickets," Skelly said. "They give tickets on consignment and hold money for the state in safekeeping."

Turk Cracks Down On Pornography

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey's conservative justice minister, a former Moslem priest, is conducting a personal no-breasts-bared crackdown on public sex "to break the backs of those who lead youth to get drunk on lust."

Justice Minister Sevet Kazan has targeted books, newspapers, magazines and films. He set up a special government office to paint small black bands on bare breasts and bottoms in imported publications.

Kazan has the blessing of his National Salvation party, junior partner in Premier Bulent Ecevit's coalition government.

Last week he hauled into court the weekly, Yanki, because it illustrated a critical article about his efforts with a picture from a German magazine. Kazan's censors had brushed black bands on the nude backsides of seven women, but he charged the magazine with printing pornography anyway.

Gunaydin, a mass-circulation daily usually top-heavy with flesh, regularly gets in trouble with Kazan's prosecutors. Editor Necati Zincirkiran has asked that Kazan resign because "Turkey is not in the Middle Ages."

Kazan's prosecutors have overruled the seal of approval of Turkey's film censor board and banned three imported films this year. One, a tame Italian epic called "Duel on a Love Bed," was halted in the midst of an afternoon showing.

Kurds Flee From Oppression By Iraqi Government Agents

PAVEH, Iran (AP) — The newest refugees in the Middle East are the Kurds, fleeing by the thousands into western Iran to escape what some call a systematic Iraqi campaign to eradicate the Kurdish minority.

About 80,000 Kurds already live in a dozen squalid camps along the central Iraqi-Iranian frontier. Hundreds more slip across the border every day, according to relief officials.

"The Iraqi soldiers can't win against our guerrillas, so they are destroying the Kurdish civilians," said an elderly Kurd at the refugee camp near Paveh.

The 70-acre tent complex on the slopes of Mt. Sariask holds 13,000 refugees, mostly children, old people and women. There are few men of fighting age, and the women say their men stayed behind to battle Iraqi soldiers and jets.

Heavy fighting has been reported between the Iraqi military and the Kurdish Pesh Merga guerrillas since negotiations on an autonomous Kurdish state within Iraq broke down last March.

About 2 million of Iraq's 10 million people are Kurds, a militant ethnic group concentrated in northern Iraq.

At the camp hospital here, several Kurdish guerrillas lay recovering from wounds suffered across the border.

Lt. Hassan Ali, a guerrilla commander, said he was wounded but escaped with three other guerrillas after an Iraqi division captured his village. He vowed to return to fight.

Almost all those in the camp, however, are civilians who made it to the border by foot or on donkeys. Some fled in carts or battered old cars. One group told how they fled their homes in northeastern Iraq at night to escape Iraqi air attacks.

Many who made it have smashed bones and scorched flesh. They now face new problems typical to refugees, including dysentery, exhaustion, exposure and the possibility of cholera.

A large low pressure area extending from eastern Pennsylvania to the lower Mississippi Valley brought rainy weather to Ohio early today.

The rain was expected to diminish over the state today as cooler dryer air pushes in from the west. Some showers may linger in eastern counties this evening, but clearing skies are forecast across the state tonight.

Lows will dip chilly readings in the low 40s Wednesday morning but highs should reach the low to mid 60s, compared with readings today in the upper 50s and low 60s.

A large high pressure area moving into Ohio from the Plains will provide fair but cool, fall-like weather for the state late this week.

Rainy cool, windy weather was the rule for the state overnight. Rainfall ranged from three-quarters of an inch or more over central and southern counties to around a half inch in the north.

The second came on Sunday when she was in the pilot's seat of a Navy P3 weather reconnaissance plane which penetrated the eye of Hurricane Carmen, with its winds of 175 miles per hour.

The 25-year-old lieutenant from Wooster, Ohio, thus became the first woman pilot in naval history to fly into a hurricane's eye.

"I didn't know what to expect, but I think I can honestly say I didn't feel fear," she said. "I have lots of confidence in the aircraft and in the crew. They know their job and they know it well."

She also was helped by the commanding officer of the fourengine turboprop jet, Cmdr. Dick Sirch, an experienced hurricane hunter who supported her and briefed her on what to expect.

Sirch said she compares well with other new pilots.

"Basically, she did a super job," he said.

"When I found out I was getting a woman pilot, I expected a tomboy or a woman's libber. This is just a young lady who seriously wants to be a pilot. She knows she's being observed as a new breed, so she makes an extra effort to do as well as she can."

Lt. Neuffer has been in the Navy for four years since graduation from Ohio State University. Her first assignment was at a computer center in San Diego.

When the Navy opened its flight program to women, Lt. Neuffer, the daughter of a World War II fighter pilot, rushed to apply.

"I had spent most of my life around airports because my father has worked at or managed airports since the war. Flying's in my blood," she said.

"I was surprised when I got this assignment. But I wanted weather work, so I took the chance, and I made it."

The Navy's five other female pilots are all in the cargo transport division.

Columbus Man Faces Charges In Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Herbert Smith, 27, Columbus, faces a murder charge in a fatal shooting which occurred Monday following an argument over money.

British Bank Notes Currency Losses

LONDON (AP) — International pressure for tighter controls on foreign exchange dealings by major banks will likely increase following the disclosure by Lloyds Bank of London that it lost as much as $78.2 million in currency transactions in Switzerland, financial commentators said today.

Lloyds, one of Britain's big four clearing banks, blamed the loss on the manager of its branch in Lugano, Switzerland, and his subordinate in charge of foreign currency dealings.

The bank, which has no connection with the famed insurance syndicate of the same name plus an apostrophe, said the loss did not threaten its solvency. It said tax offsets and insurance could reduce the loss to $44.4 million, only a fourth of the amount of the foreign currency debt that forced the collapse of the Herstatt Bank in West Germany in June and less than the $52 million loss in foreign currency dealings that endangered the Franklin National Bank of New York.

The Swiss Federal Banking Commission said it was investigating to determine whether criminality was involved. But foreign exchange dealers said mammoth speculative profits and losses have become common in the international money markets, partly because the markets have been allowed to operate with a minimum of government control for the past 18 months due to the abandonment of the fixed rates of exchange supported by government buying and the free floating of currencies within comparatively wide limits.

"Much of the time, the international foreign exchanges operate like a vast gambling casino with none of the central bank authorities able to impose the proper control over what is going on," one business commentator said.

Browns Turn Back Bengals, 21-17

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Greg Pruitt says the Cincinnati punt return coverage is so good it helped him unleash a 94-yard bomb on the Bengals.

"I watched the films all week and the Bengals have such discipline their guys stay in field and very seldom cross over after you," said the University of Oklahoma scooter.

"I knew if the timing was right, picked up the blocks and got clear, I could do it. I had that feeling before the game I was going to run back a kick-off," added Pruitt.

Pruitt's run and two Cleveland touchdowns in the last 30 seconds snapped Cincinnati's perfect exhibition season, producing a 21-17 victory Sunday in Ohio Stadium.

Paul Brown, however, hinted the Bengals' kicking coverage needed much more work before the rivals meet Sunday, Sept. 15, in a regular season NFL opener in Cincinnati.

"We failed to cover the fake punt and the inside kick," Brown said. "And that's all part of the game."

"The mistakes couldn't come at a better time for our players to find out they are part of the game," he added. Cleveland kicker Don Cockroft faked a punt on a fourth-and-10 situation at the Cleveland 48-yard line.

Instead, he teamed with Van Green, normally a safety, for a 12-yard pass play. The surprise strategy kept alive a Cleveland surge that narrowed the lead to 17-14.

Billy Pritchett ran two yards for the touchdown with 30 seconds left.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Browns' Mark Ilgenfritz recovered an onside kick at the Browns' 48. Four plays later, Mike Phipps passed 19 yards to Milt Morin for the game winner with six seconds to go.

So the Bengals now prepare for a game against Green Bay in Milwaukee Friday night. Cleveland's final exhibition foe is host Detroit Saturday night.

Oakland emerged with a 20-19 victory, thanks to a 74-yard scoring strike from Ken Stabler to Cliff Branch that turned things around. An unusual drop of a Steve Spurrier bomb by Gene Washington late in the game proved costly to the 49ers.

As a result, the Raiders take a 4-1 pre-season record into Saturday's Berkeley clash with the New York Jets. The 0-5 49ers host the Los Angeles Rams Sunday.

For a while, upset seemed a possibility. A stout San Francisco defense smothered Stabler and a pair of Tom Wittum field goals gave the 49ers a 60 lead late in the second period.

Stabler then uncorked his bomb to Branch, who grabbed the ball on the San Francisco 36 and outraced cornerback Bruce Taylor to the end zone. George Blanda's conversion made it 7-6 at the half.

Stabler completed 13 of 21 passes for 181 yards.

Denver and Los Angeles are tied with Cincinnati for the second best record.

Denver beat New England 27-21 Saturday night on a one-yard touchdown plunge by reserve quarterback John Huftnagel in the final quarter. James Harris, also a sub quarterback, passed for two fourth-quarter touchdowns as Los Angeles beat San Diego 30-16.

In other Saturday action, Minnesota beat St. Louis 14-10; New Orleans downed the New York Jets 24-7; Philadelphia edged the New York Giants 24-21; Atlanta topped Baltimore 23-7; Dallas defeated Kansas City 25-16; and Houston trounced Chicago 37-20.

Open House Planned By PFS Assn.

At Sunday's work session some 15 members of the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Association made preparations for National Hunting and Fishing Day September 28. On that date, the club's recreation area three miles east of Circleville on State Route 22 at the old Children's Home, will be opened to the public.

From the turn of the century, the nation's hunters and fishermen have led the battle to conserve our natural resources. National Hunting and Fishing Day offers the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Association a chance to demonstrate to the residents of Pickaway County how the local club has promoted conservation. One example will be seen at the club's pheasant pen, where some 250 young pheasants are being raised. When the young birds reach maturity they are able to fly out of the open-top pen. In addition, the club's recreation area has been posted as a Wildlife Refuge and Safety Area. This means that the area has been closed to all hunting.

Members of the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Association will be present during the day to help anyone interested in sighting in their firearms, and the Bow Hunters Division will demonstrate archery hunting methods.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the activities and learn more about the conservation efforts of the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Association. The recreation area will be open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Reds Lose To Astros, 4-3

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston Manager Preston Gomez says his Astros are going to be "in the middle" and decide whether the Cincinnati Reds or the Los Angeles Dodgers win the National League West title.

The Astros edged the Reds 4-3 Monday night in a game that saw Reds Manager George "Sparky" Anderson tossed out for protesting a play at the

Phils Angry At Pirates Sweep

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates' 7-4, 11-1 Labor Day sweep over Philadelphia left some bad feelings among a couple of the Phillies.

"We're going to get even," vowed Philadelphia second baseman Dave Cash, who was struck in the batting helmet by a pitch during the eighth inning of the nightcap. "And if nobody else on this team will throw the ball, I will."

Kison said the pitch to Cash, a fastball, slipped from his hand because of a chronic blister on his middle finger. He said he talked briefly with Cash after the game and that Cash didn't indicate any anger.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco beat Los Angeles 5-3, Houston edged Cincinnati 4-3, Atlanta swept a pair from San Diego 8-2 and 4-0, and Montreal at St. Louis and New York at Chicago were rained out.

Pittsburgh's victory boosted its lead in the NL East to 2½ games over St. Louis, which was rained out.

Willie Stargell had two homers, a double, two singles and drove in five runs in Monday's doubleheader. Pittsburgh outfielder Richie Zisk's grand slam homer highlighted the nightcap. It was his third homer in five games.

Jerry Reuss scattered eight hits in notching his 15th victory in the opener, while Bruce Kison and Ramon Her-andez combined on a three-hitter in the second game.

The loss left Cincinnati 3½ games behind the front-running Dodgers, who lost to San Francisco.

The big argument occurred in the seventh inning with Houston leading 4-2. Peter Rose and Joe Morgan singled and both runners moved up when Greg Gross misplayed Morgan's hit.

Johnny Bench then doubled down the left field line. Rose scored on the play but home plate umpire Jerry Dale called Morgan out at home on a close play as catcher Milt May took the throw from shortstop Roger Metzger and applied the tag.

The Reds stormed out of the dugout in protest and in the bottom of the inning Dale gave Anderson the thumb for continuing the argument.

"Position can be the only reason that Dale blew the play," Anderson said. "He had to be behind the catcher. Only way I can see. Other than that, I don't know what could have happened. I really don't."

"That's the maddest I've ever been. I saw the angle and I know Joe was by him before he got his glove down. Joe didn't get an inch or a foot — he got the whole plate."

The Reds took a 2-0 lead with a run on Rose's double and Tony Perez' single in the first and Joe Morgan's lead off home run in the third.

Houston picked up a run in the bottom of the third when Larry Milbourne beat out a bunt, was sacrificed to second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Gross' grounder.

Houston went ahead 3-2 in the fifth on singles by Larry Howard and Milbourne. A sacrifice, a run-scoring single by Gross and a squeeze bunt by Metzger.

Doug Rader gave the Astros a 4-2 lead in the sixth with his 15th home run of the season.

Larry Dierker won his ninth game against eight losses with help from Ken Forsch. Tom Carroll, 4-2 was the loser.

"I told Sparky before the game we are going to be in the middle and decide whether Cincinnati or Los Angeles wins the National League West," Gomez said.

The Astros have five more games remaining with Cincinnati and six with Los Angeles.

Operations Hurt Bearcats Chances

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Two emergency operations hours apart dealt a blow to the University of Cincinnati's football hopes Monday.

The Bearcats already-thin offensive line lost junior starting guard Rick Fein when his spleen burst and had to be removed. Coach Tony Mason said he'd be lost for the year.

Quarterback Mike Campbell, whose passing prowess had helped him beat out last year's starter, Henry Miller, was sidelined for an estimated five weeks after an appendectomy.

Dizzie Dan Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dizzie Dan won the featured eighth race Monday night at Scioto Downs harness track, returning his backers $8.20, $3.60, and $2.80.

Rams Favored To Grab NFC West Crown

By BEN THOMAS
AP Sports Writer

The National Conference West could turn out to be the National Conference Best in the divisional races of the National Football League this winter, but the odds-on favorite role must go to the Los Angeles Rams.

The Atlanta Falcons, however, are starting off with the war cry: "Playoffs — the only payoff." If the Falcons don't make the playoffs this time, then Norm Van Brocklin, the Atlanta coach, could be in Dutch.

San Francisco had a disappointing season in 1973 after winning the divisional title and a playoff berth in the two previous years, but the 49ers still appear to have the potential to make a stab at the playoffs this year.

The 49ers finished last in the division in 1973, quite a comedown after first place the previous season.

Actually, they tied the lowly New Orleans Saints for third place behind the Rams and the Falcons, but since there are only four teams in the division, a third-place tie amounts to a last-place finish.

Then there are the Saints. This doesn't appear to be the year for them to go marching in, but New Orleans seems to be vastly improved as John North starts his second season as coach. There's no way the Saints can be completely counted out at the start.

Los Angeles Rams

The Rams have talent, depth and Chuck Knox, the former Detroit assistant who coached the team to a 12-2 record in his first year as at the helm.

What's more, Los Angeles appears to have survived the abortive players' strike with considerably less internal dissension than many other teams.

And if that isn't enough, the Rams have a prize rookie in John Cappelletti, the 1973 Heisman Trophy winner from Penn State, plus the return to action of Lance Rentzel, suspended from football for a year by Commissioner Pete Rozelle for his off-field behavior.

The Rams made two key trades prior to the 1973 season which helped result in Los Angeles leading the league in total offense and points scored. Quarterback John Hadl came from San Diego and pass-catcher

Harold Jackson from Philadelphia. Hadl, with the retirement of Johnny Unitas, is now No. 4 on the yardage-gained list of active NFL quarterbacks. Jackson led the league in touchdown catches last year with 13.

In Larry McCutcheon and Jim Bertelsen, the Rams have a duo of runners hard to equal in the NFC. McCutcheon, a bench-warmer for his rookie season of 1972, was the No. 3 NFC ground-gainer last year with 1,097 yards. Bertelsen, with 854 yards, wound up eighth.

With this pair, plus veterans such as Tony Baker and Les Josephson, no wonder Cappelletti may be hard-pressed to make the team.

An offensive line seldom receives credit, but the Rams have one that consists of center Ken Iman, unheralded except by his teammates and opponents, as well as guards Tom Mack and Joe Scibelli.

In addition to Jackson and Rentzel, the receiving corps includes veteran Jack Snow, plus a promising rookie, Ananias Carson, from Langston and tight end Bob Klein.

The Ram defense, league leaders in 1973, consists of a front four of Fred Dryer, Jack Youngblood, Larry Brooks and Merlin Olsen with Merlin's younger brother, Phil, backing them up. Isaiah Robertson heads the linebackers and the secondary which includes Steve Preece and Dave Elmendorf should be even better than 1973.

Atlanta Falcons

Robert Lee was the Darling of Dixie — or at least that part of it that follows the Falcons — last year when the young quarterback took over the field generalship of the team. He led Atlanta to seven straight victories.

He could be pressed this season by Pat Sullivan, another erstwhile Heisman winner who enters his third pro season and could be ready to start coming into his own.

Injuries plagued Atlanta's two best receivers last year, Ken Burrow and Al Dodd, but they apparently will start the 1974 campaign in good health. The Atlanta running attack features Dave Hampton, who for the second straight year just missed the 1,000-yard plateau.

Atlanta has a defensive Front Four that doesn't have to take a backseat to any in the league — defensive ends Claude Humphrey and John Zook and tackles Mike Tillemann and Mike Lewis. Toss in a linebacking crew that includes Tommy Nobis and a secondary which helped Atlanta win the pass defense crown in the NFC last year and you have the ingredients of a first-class defense.

New Orleans Saints

John North performed some minor miracles with the Saints last year. North was named head coach toward the tail end of the exhibition season but for the first three regular season games, he saw the New Orleans team yield 116 points while scoring only 17.

Then the Saints surprised four of their next five opponents — including the Washington Redskins and Buffalo Bills, holding O.J. Simpson to a mere 79 yards, one of his lowest rushing outputs of the season.

New Orleans quarterback Archie Manning feuded with team owner John W. Mecom Jr. during the off-season, but the offensive fortunes of the Saints still rest largely on the former University of Mississippi star.

The Saints have largely a young team. The bulk of the roster is composed of players with four or fewer years NFL service and consists of names very few people, including the New Orleans' fans, ever heard of.

The Saints recently swapped pass-catchers with Cleveland, sending Jubilee Dunbar to the Browns in exchange for Fair Hooker, who will now team with Bob Newland and tight end John Phillips.

The running corps — in addition to Manning, always a threat on the ground — is headed by Jess Phillips with rookie Rod McNeice expected to see considerable service.

The Saints, like most of the NFC West teams, have a tough schedule this year. The team's won-loss column may not improve, even if the team does.

Americans Top Blazers

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

The Birmingham Americans kept their World Football League unbeaten streak alive, but just barely, Monday night, pulling out an 8-7 squeaker over the Florida Blazers.

"We knew they were strong finishers," moaned Florida Coach Jack Pardee after watching reserve quarterback Matthew Reed lead the Americans on an 80-yard scoring drive in the fourth quarter.

Reed, in relief of starter George Mira, kept the winning drive rolling with a 10-yard pass to Al Jenkins and an 11-yard keeper. He tied the score on a two-yard keeper and then rifled a pass to Jim Bishop for the decisive action point. It was Birmingham's ninth victory and the fifth time they have rallied late in the game to win.

Elsewhere in the WFL, the Chicago Fire defeated the Southern California Sun 32-22; the New York Stars downed the Philadelphia Bell 24-16; the Memphis Southmen beat the Jacksonville Sharks 16-13; and the Portland Storm topped the Detroit Wheels 18-7.

Former Kentucky Derby winner Carry Back still carries on. One of his sons, Sharp Gary, recently won the Illinois Derby by three lengths.

The split Ohio season runs from Oct. 16 to Nov. 30 and again from Jan. 1 to 4. Last year canvasback and redhead ducks were protected in Ottawa County. Sandusky and Erie counties have been added to the closure, ending the season for those species throughout the Lake Erie marsh region.

Ohioans also suffer by the new bag limits, reduced from last year.

The point system will be repeated. Each duck species and sex is assigned points. When a hunter bags birds totaling 100 points he has his daily limit.

Drake mallards and black ducks carried 25 points last year. That meant the daily limit on those birds was four. Greenheads are up to 35 points this year, reducing the limit to three, and blacks jumped to 90 points, cutting that limit to two.

Birds Take Pair From Bosox

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Boston bats were ailing and the faltering Red Sox managed a grand total of five hits — two of them bunts — in dropping a doubleheader to the surging Baltimore Orioles by twin 1-0 scores.

However, the Sox held onto first place in the American League's East Division by one game over New York Monday when the Yankees split a twin bill with the Milwaukee Brewers, winning the opener 3-1 but dropping the nightcap 3-2. Baltimore is only three games out.

Elsewhere, Chicago's Wilbur Wood became a 20-game winner for the fourth year in a row as the White Sox rallied to beat the Kansas City Royals 6-4 in 10 innings, the Oakland A's edged the California Angels 6-4 and the Minnesota Twins trounced the Texas Rangers 9-3. Cleveland and Detroit were rained out.

The Orioles stretched their longest winning streak of the season to six games and extended Boston's slide to five in a row when Ross Grimsley hurled a three-hitter in the opener — Bobby Grich's fourthinning homer off 20-game winner Luis Tiant was the only run — and Mike Cuellar went him one better by firing a two-hitter in the nightcap.

Paul Blair's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the third inning enabled Cuellar to outduel Bill Lee.

Yankees 3-2, Brewers 1-3

The Yankees equaled their longest winning streak of the season at six games by taking the opener behind Rudy May's four-hit pitching, but the Brewers built a 3-0 lead in the nightcap on an RBI single by ex-Yankee Mike Hegan and Tim Johnson's two-run single and held on behind Tom Murphy's clutch relief pitching.

In the New York ninth, Ron Blomberg's single and Roy White's double put runners at second and third with none out. But Elliott Maddox flied to short center and, after an intentional pass to Bobby Murcer, Graig Nettles fouled out and Lou Piniella grounded to second, where Pedro Garcia made a diving stop.

White Sox 6, Royals 4

Wood survived a 13-hit Kansas City attack and became the first White Sox pitcher ever to win 20 games four years in a row. Jorge Orta's two-run double in the 10th inning provided Wood's triumph after a two-run pinch double by Ron Santo capped a three-run rally in the eighth that erased a 4-1 Kansas City lead.

A's 6, Angels 4

Home runs by Reggie Jackson and Joe Rudi highlighted Oakland's and increased the A's lead in the AL West to 8½ games over Kansas City and Texas. Frank Robinson and John Doherty homered for California.

Twins 9, Rangers 3

Joe Decker pitched a six-hitter and Eric Soderholm, Craig Kuskick and Tony Oliva homered for Minnesota. Toby Harrah hit his 19th homer for Texas. Seven of them have come against the Twins.

Gaylord Perry of the Cleveland Indians was the first major league pitcher to win 10 games this season.

Rod Carew entered June with a .411 batting average for the Minnesota Twins.

Bad News Plentiful For Waterfowlers

By JIM DAUBEL

Written for Associated Press

The news for Ohio waterfowlers this fall is not all bad.

Some of it is worse.

Every silver lining in the newly announced hunting regulations has its dark cloud.

First, some background.

The Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service — FWS — annually establishes the basic framework for length of seasons and bag limits in each of four major north-to-south migration routes known as flyways.

The states make the best of those guidelines in setting their regulations. The Mississippi Flyway, which embraces Ohio, has a 50-day duck season this year, an increase of five hunting days over 1973-1974.

Ohio forfeits seven of those days because the season is spread over seven weeks and Sunday hunting is forbidden in this state.

Still Ohio's 43 days are three more than Buckeye gunners had last year.

This year's season opens at noon on Wednesday, Oct. 16. Ohio agreed to the midday opening in order to gain five shooting days.

FWS gave each state a five-day bonus for adopting the unorthodox opener. Normally the season begins at sunrise, but because the kill is so heavy in the first few hours of shooting, the federals encouraged the noon start with a small bribe.

The split Ohio season runs from Oct. 16 to Nov. 30 and again from Jan. 1 to 4. Last year canvasback and redhead ducks were protected in Ottawa County. Sandusky and Erie counties have been added to the closure, ending the season for those species throughout the Lake Erie marsh region.

Ohioans also suffer by the new bag limits, reduced from last year.

The point system will be repeated. Each duck species and sex is assigned points. When a hunter bags birds totaling 100 points he has his daily limit.

Drake mallards and black ducks carried 25 points last year. That meant the daily limit on those birds was four. Greenheads are up to 35 points this year, reducing the limit to three, and blacks jumped to 90 points, cutting that limit to two.

Former Kentucky Derby winner Carry Back still carries on. One of his sons, Sharp Gary, recently won the Illinois Derby by three lengths.

Nicklaus Wins Golf Tournament

ATLANTA (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, disappointed over not winning any of golf's four major tournaments, says his triumph in the $250,000 Tournament Players Championship "has salvaged the year for me."

Nicklaus put on one of his patented charges over the final round which began Sunday and concluded Monday morning due to torrential rainstorms.

The 34-year-old "Golden Bear" took home the $50,000 first prize when he strung together six birdies en route to a 67 and a course-tying 72-hole total of 272.

J.C. Snead, the third-round leader, equaled par 72 on the final round for a 274 total, two strokes behind Nicklaus over the 6,883-yard Atlanta Country Club course.

"I didn't want to let this one get away from me once I got in a position to win," Nicklaus said Monday. He was three shots behind Snead after the third round Saturday but regained his putting touch over the final 18 holes to overtake the nephew of famed golfer Sam Snead.

It was Nicklaus' first triumph since winning the Hawaiian Open in February and gives him 53 tour victories in addition to $2,217,476 in earnings for his career. It also gave him $208,307 in earnings for the season, second to Johnny Miller, who has $256,383.

Oklahoma Tapped As Grid Champion

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

The Oklahoma Sooners, who finished third last season, have been tapped to unseat Notre Dame as college football's national champion.

In nationwide balloting by the 58 members of The Associated Press panel of sports writers and broadcasters, Oklahoma received 23 first-place votes and 976 of a possible 1,160 points.

Trailing the Sooners in the preseason voting were Ohio State, Notre Dame and Alabama. The rest of the Top Ten consisted of Southern California, Michigan, Nebraska, Penn State, Louisiana State and Texas.

"I think it's great to be No. 1, but it puts a lot of pressure on us," said Oklahoma's Barry Switzer, who compiled a 10-0-1 mark last season in his debut as a head coach. "When Playboy picks you No. 1 you don't feel the pressure, but when the writers and broadcasters pick you No. 1 the pressure is really on."

The Sooners are winding up a two-year probation levied by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for recruiting violations and cannot go to a bowl game this season.

Ohio State, which finished second in last year's final AP poll following a convincing 42-21 Rose Bowl rout of Southern Cal, received 14 first-place votes and 907 points.

Notre Dame won the 1973 national championship by eking out a 24-23 victory over Alabama in the Sugar Bowl, but the Fighting Irish were rated third in the preseason poll with 13 first-place votes and 864 points.

Alabama was fourth, just as it was in the final 1973 AP poll, with six first-place votes and 859 points. Southern Cal, the 1972 champion, received one first-place ballot and 752 points. The other first-place vote went to Michigan, which had 586 points.

Southern Cal was No. 1 in last year's preseason poll, while Notre Dame, the eventual champion, was eighth. Oklahoma was 11th.

This year's preseason Second Ten consisted of Houston, UCLA, Pitt, Maryland, Arizona State, Tennessee, Arizona, North Carolina State, Arkansas and Texas A&M.

The final 1973 poll: Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Alabama, Penn State, Michigan, Nebraska, Southern California, Arizona State and Houston tied for ninth, Texas Tech, UCLA, Louisiana State, Texas, Miami of Ohio, North Carolina State, Missouri, Kansas and Tennessee, with Maryland and Tulane tied for 20th.

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses, 1974 record and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

1. Oklahoma (23)	10-0-1	976
2. Ohio St. (14)	10-0-1	907
3. N. Dame (13)	11-0-0	864
4. Alabama (6)	11-1-0	859
5. So. Cal. (1)	9-2-1	752
6. Michigan (1)	10-0-1	586
7. Nebraska	8-3-1	472
8. Penn St.	12-0-0	451
9. Louisiana St.	9-3-0	360
10. Texas	8-3-0	354
11. Houston	11-1-0	241
12. UCLA	9-2-0	182
13. Pitt	6-5-1	141
14. Maryland	8-4-0	137
15. Arizona St.	11-1-0	88
16. Tennessee	8-4-0	79
17. Arizona	8-3-0	76
18. N. Carlna St.	9-3-0	50
19. Arkansas	5-5-1	45
20. Texas A&M	5-6-0	33

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Auburn, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Illinois, Kansas, Kent State, Miami of Florida, Miami of Ohio, Michigan State, Missouri, Purdue, South Carolina, Stanford, Texas Tech, Tulane, Wisconsin.

Dolphins Continue Running Offense

MIAMI (AP) — The methodical, run-dominated offense which has taken the Miami Dolphins to two straight Super Bowl crowns has been called dull and boring by critics, but to Coach Don Shula it's a thing of beauty. It wins.

And for fullback Larry Csonka's final year in the National Football League, it will remain.

Shula badly wants to be the first coach to capture three straight Super Bowl titles, and he won't worry about finding replacements for World Football League defections Csonka, Jim Kiick and Paul Warfield until he has to in 1975.

Shula escaped the players' strike with no sign of team disunity, with 34 veterans reporting to camp during the strike.

The only sign of unhappiness has been in veterans' demands for fat, renegotiated contracts which have been offered to only a handful to keep them from being snatched up by the NFL.

A few rookies will probably make the team, like top draft pick Donald Reese, a defensive end, but none are likely to crack the veteran and still youthful lineup unless injuries develop. The Dolphins also have experienced backup men for every position.

The offensive line of center Jim Langer, guards Larry Little and Bob Kuechenberg, tackles Norm Evans and Wayne Moore and tight end Jim Mandich is one of the NFL's best.

With their blocking, Csonka has had three straight years of over 1,000 yards rushing and Mercury Morris just missed his second straight 1,000-yard year last season.

Warfield and Marlin Briscoe give Shula the balance to keep foes from stacking defenses to stop the run. Quarterback Bob Griese threw for 1,422 yards and 17 touchdowns last year.

The defense was the American Conference's stingiest last season and then smothered Cincinnati, Oakland and Minnesota in the playoffs.

The defenders once known as the "No-Names" are now celebrities — tackles Bob Heinz and Manny Fernandez, ends Bill Stanfill and Vern Den Herder, linebackers Nick Buoniconti, Mike Kolen, Doug Swift and Bob Matheson, cornerbacks Tim Foley and Curtis Johnson and safeties Dick Anderson and Jake Scott.

The "53 defense," begun two years ago to solve an injury problem, has evolved into a key pass defense. It finds Matheson, who wears No. 53 on his uniform, replacing a tackle and lining up either as an end or linebacker.

The rule change which appears to hurt Miami the most is the moving of the goalposts back 10 yards. Soccer-style kicker Garo Yepremian had been a threat to score whenever the Dolphins reached midfield.

French Push Jet Onto NATO Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense officials say the French government is putting "staggering pressure" on four NATO countries as they decide whether to buy a new French or U.S. jet fighter.

At stake are contracts potentially worth billions of dollars, prestige and influence in Europe, large numbers of jobs in two ailing economies, and each nation's hope for balance-of-payment benefits.

The Netherlands, Belgium, Norway and Denmark are to buy about 350 planes to replace aging U.S.-built F104 Starfighters.

The French entry is the Mirage F1M53, while the United States has two candidates, both lightweight fighters competing also for selection by the U.S. Air Force. The U.S. planes are the YF16, built by General Dynamics Corp., and the YF17 of the Northrup Corp.

A struggle for this business has intensified on both sides for months.

For the United States, a decision for the U.S. plane could reduce the cost of up to 600 lightweight fighters for the U.S. Air Force by permitting a wider spread of production and development costs.

It also could open the way for sales to other NATO countries.

For France, a decision for the Mirage would help stave off unemployment in its aircraft industry and overcome balance of payments problems growing out of high import prices for fuel and other goods.

Late last week, the French foreign ministry invited defense ministers of the four countries to Paris on Sept. 8.

Pentagon officials said the French have persistently emphasized to the four countries that, like France, they are small European nations who should stand with France against dominance by the United States.

There also have been reports of strong French economic pressures, including warnings to Belgian businessmen that they would lose French orders unless the Mirage was purchased.

U.S. authorities close to the situation say Belgium leans toward the Mirage, but that informal indications are that the Netherlands, Denmark and Norway favor a U.S. plane.

Mrs. Stanley New Leader Of WCTU

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The national Women's Christian Temperance Union elected its first new president in 15 years Monday and only its 10th in a century.

The WCTU's 100th anniversary convention ends tonight with a birthday banquet.

In resolutions, the organization called on states to set .05 per cent as the alcohol content of blood above which drunken driving is presumed.

The WCTU also urged congress to pass legislation banning advertising of alcoholic beverages on radio or television.

The new president, Mrs. Herman Stanley of Evanston, Ill., had been promotion secretary of the WCTU since 1959 and recently was elected to a third term as treasurer of the world WCTU.

Mrs. Stanley was president of the Indiana WCTU for 14 years before moving to the national headquarters in Evanston.

She has studied voice at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. Stanley succeeds Mrs. Fred J. Tooze, also of Evanston, who did not seek re-election. Mrs. Tooze had headed the organization for 15 years.

Mrs. Roy T. Jarrett of Richmond, Va., was elected to a 16th one-year term as vice president.

The organization's advertising resolution also called on national legislators to withdraw the tax deductible status of advertising alcoholic beverages.

Dean Opens Prison Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Dean III, the principal accuser of former President Nixon in the Watergate scandal, is starting a one-to four-year prison term today.

He is scheduled to surrender to federal marshals. It was expected that he would be confined initially at Ft. Holabird, Md., so that he will be available to testify at the Watergate cover-up trial which is to begin here Sept. 30.

Dean pleaded guilty last year to a charge of conspiring to obstruct justice in connection with the cover-up of the 1972 Watergate break-in. He has already served as a prosecution witness in other Watergate-related trials.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica sentenced Dean on August 2 and gave him until today to arrange his personal business and prepare for prison. Sirica said that he would recommend that Dean, 35, spend his sentence in the minimum security prison in Lompoc, Calif.

Ex-Union Chief Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph A. Beirne, 63, leader of the nation's telephone workers for more than 30 years, died Monday after a long battle with cancer. Beirne resigned earlier this year as head of the 500,000-member Communications Workers of America but not before he announced a breakthrough in which AT&T and the Bell System agreed to bargain with the CWA on a national scale.

Grass-Fed Cattle Face Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says a larger flow of grass-fattened cattle will be moving to market this fall and winter, but two recent reports suggest the supply of nonfed beef already is climbing rapidly.

On Aug. 14, USDA reported the number of cattle on feed in seven key states the first of the month was down 23 per cent from Aug. 1 last year. Further, the report said, marketings from feedlots during July were down 10 per cent from a year earlier.

Those figures speak for themselves, but only to the extent that the grain-fattened cattle supply was less than it was the year before. They did not indicate the total beef supply from all sources, including "nonfed" cattle sold for slaughter.

New Drug Under Study

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A new drug to combat a virus that inflicts chicken pox among the young and causes shingles in the aged is under intense study at the University of Cincinnati.

The college is one of 15 medical units researching the new drug called Ara-A or adenine arabinoside.

Dr. Calvin C. Linnemann, assistant professor of medicine, is heading the study. He said tests hope to uncover a defense against the two diseases and reveal the workings of viruses.

Results of the tests won't be known for a year, Linnemann said.

The drug is designed to increase protection against the virus. Antibiotics have no effect on virus, he noted.

Woman From Ohio Killed In Accident

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP)—An Ohio woman, Teresa Billings, 18, of Toledo, was killed Monday when the car she was driving went out of control on Interstate 40 about 11 miles east of here, ejecting her, the highway patrol said.

The dead woman's fiance, George Letosky, 23, of Toledo, also was ejected, but suffered minor injuries, officers said.

But last Thursday USDA provided another report which helps answer the remainder of the question. It said beef production in federally inspected slaughter plants in July was up 15 per cent from the same month last year.

That was not a new trend, however, since figures for June had showed a similar relationship: A decline in feedlot output and an over-all increase in beef slaughter.

The slaughter report also helped bear out claims by USDA that total beef production is on the upswing this year. During the first seven months, it said, beef production was up seven per cent from January-July last year. Also, that did not include veal which showed a three per cent gain from a year earlier.

Pork output, reflecting cutbacks in hog programs this year, was down 11 per cent during the first seven months of this year from the same period in 1973.

In reviewing the current picture for livestock, USDA is saying that while cattle slaughter is running higher this summer over-all, the price situation for choice-grade cattle from feedlots — because they are in shorter supply — is the brightest of the lot.

"Choice steer prices may average in the mid-$40s (per 100 pounds), $4 to $7 higher than in the spring," says USDA. "But prices of cows and grass-fed steers and heifers are not fully sharing in this price strength."

The hog situation also is clouded by prospects of larger quantities of nonfed beef on the market in the fall, particularly if sales increase because of dried up pastures and ranges in parts of the country.

"Seasonally larger pork production this fall and increased supplies of lower-grade beef are expected to keep hog prices in the low $30s (per 100 pounds) this fall," officials said. "Smaller supplies of pork and higher hog prices are in prospect for 1975."

Roundtowner Remembers Days With Chautauqua Institution

By SUE BOYER
Herald Staff Writer

The United States Postal Service has recently designed a ten-cent commemorative stamp honoring the Chautauqua Movement. The stamp will be issued at Chautauqua, N. Y. during the formal celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the movement.

Two Methodist ministers were the founders of the Chautauqua Institution which toured the United States providing cultural entertainment in the form of lectures, concerts, readings and other social events.

Roundtowner Mrs. Fred Bowsher, then Mildred Coleman, joined the movement when it visited Circleville in 1914. Mrs. Bowsher was only five years old when the local physicians sponsored the Redpath Chautauqua show at the old Everts High School.

Billed as America's youngest assistant magician, Mrs. Bowsher traveled with Edward Reno doing magic shows and later giving recitations on the stage. During the summer months Redpath showed in tents throughout the United States and then the members left the show during the winter to resume their normal lives.

Mrs. Bowsher as a child toured in the summer and attended school in Kankakee, Ill. during the winter where she lived with Mr. and Mrs. Reno. She went by her stage name Millie Reno at the time of her touring days. Many of the audiences who came from miles to see the shows thought she was the Renos' daughter. Kankakee is the hometown of Fred McMurray.

During World War I, the Chautauqua group entertained the troops at various military camps in the states. Mrs. Bowsher says she remembers visiting Camp Custer in Michigan and Camp Sherman near Chillicothe.

Several great names in the political and entertainment world were among the featured members of the Chautauqua Redpath Institution. Included on the list were William Jennings Bryan and Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy.

The group traveled by train from town to town with different acts following each day throughout the summer months. Mrs. Bowsher traveled with the Renos and a musical group, The Parnells. After Chautauqua died, Emory Parnell continued his work in the entertainment world and was seen in the public eye as late as the '50s when he played on national television as Riley's boss on "The Life of Riley".

ON THE CHAUTAUQUA TRAIL—Mrs. Fred Bowsher poses while on tour with the Redpath Chautauqua Institution nearly 60 years ago. Mrs. Bowsher, then Mildred Coleman, joined the institution when it was sponsored in Circleville in 1914. She was only five at the time and toured with the cultural movement for five years before returning to her native Roundtown. She performed as an assistant magician and later gave readings to audiences in and around Chicago.

At the age of ten, Mrs. Bowsher left the circuit and returned home to Circleville. She said on several occasions during her five-year stint with Chautauqua she had become very homesick even though she and her family kept close correspondence. When she returned home in 1921, she decided to stay.

The word Chautauqua came from the Seneca Indians' word meaning "leaping fish" and was adopted by the traveling group as a generic name. The companies of traveling culture contributed greatly to the nation that was not yet served with the modern means of rapid communication such as motion pictures, radio, television and the like.

Ford Sets Trip For Celebration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford and President Luis Echeverria of Mexico may meet very soon at the border of the two countries, a White House official says.

Presidential spokesman Jerald F. terHorst told reporters on Monday that "a very early meeting on the border" is expected, but gave no date or location.

Echeverria has been quoted as saying the meeting was upcoming.

With the coming of the modern communication gadgets, the traveling companies faded from the picture but the original Chautauqua still attracts thousands of visitors each year to its grounds and its courses.

Rape Victims Protected In California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Harassing questions about a rape victim's prior sex life will no longer be permitted in California trials under a new state law.

Calling the measure a landmark change in the state's 100-year-old rape statutes, Gov. Ronald Reagan signed the legislation Friday.

It strictly limits courtroom interrogation of victims.

Supporters said the bill would reduce the embarrassment and intimidation that keeps many rape victims from reporting the crimes.

"The jury tears her apart if she's had a boyfriend or has had sex in the past. We contend that's not relevant to whether she's been raped," said Geraldine Greenwood, a lobbyist for the National Organization for Women.

"The man's sexual history is not considered relevant to the trial, so the woman's shouldn't be."

Under the law effective Jan. 1, testimony about an alleged rape victim's prior sexual conduct cannot be introduced in a trial until a special hearing is held.

The jury may hear the evidence only if the judge finds it is relevant to the credibility of the victim as a witness. It could not be used if it dealt with whether the victim consented to the act.

Testimony is also permitted about the victim's prior sexual relationship, if any, with the defendant.

"This keeps the victim of a rape from becoming the victim of the trial," said state Sen. Alan Robbins of North Hollywood, author of the bill. "The rape laws have gone almost a century with no change. This is a first step."

They Must Save

MASERU, Lesotho (AP)—The government has introduced a compulsory savings plan to increase the funds available for national development.

An official announcement said the plan includes a 10 per cent cut in the salaries of cabinet ministers. An additional 10 per cent is to be deducted from the pay of civil servants and government officers earning more than $900 a year.

The sum collected is to be credited them in a special tax-free and interest-bearing account which the person concerned cannot touch for five years or before he resigns or retires.

In Memoriam

In memory of Pete Sweptson who passed away 3 years ago today on Sept. 3, 1971.

It just doesn't seem possible. That three years have gone past. Since you went to heaven. To lie down and rest.

Lois and Lesley Sweptson

1. Card of Thanks

We express our heartfelt and sincere thanks for all of the kindness and consideration shown toward us during the extended illness and death of husband and father. The Reverend Arthur A. Cupp. The prayers, cards, flowers, food and other donations were greatly appreciated. Special thanks are extended to William Strehle, The Reverend Marion Nansel, The Reverend Clyde Albaugh, The Reverend John C. Hurst, Dr. Robert Coy, Dr. Thomas Willard, the staff at the Mt. Carmel Medical Center, Columbus, for their excellent care and concern, the Mader Funeral Home for excellent and courteous service, the tender consideration of relatives, neighbors and friends, and the love that was expressed through the fellowship of the Circleville Church of the Brethren.

Since it has been my lot to find at every parting of the road. The helping hand of comrade kind. To help me with the load. And since I have no gold to give. And love alone must make amends. My humble prayer is while I live, God make me worthy of my friends.

Mrs. Arthur (Virginia) Cupp and Family

My sincere thanks for the many kindnesses shown to me and my family during my hospital confinement.

Neil K. Frazier

I wish to thank my friends and fellow workers who sent me cards during my sickness. I also wish to thank the Ashville Harrison Emergency Squad for their assistance.

Bill Six

WOULD SOMEONE PLEASE TELL ME WHY?

Why I can't sell a very spacious new 3 large bedroom 70' x 14' mobile home with a very roomy full bath between two bedrooms and a very adequate 1/2 bath by the other bedroom. It is a 1974 model fully carpeted from one end to the other and has one of the most convenient kitchens that any homemaker could ever want. The styling is unique and very luxurious and the best part of all is the price. Fully furnished, draped, carpeted and ready to live in, it is less than $10,000. If someone can help I would appreciate it. It is located on the Circleville Mobile Homes sales lot on US Route 23.

Your Horoscope Television Schedule

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Mixed influences. Carelessness in "minor" matters could cause a series of undesirable situations. Use your wits to hold the line.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Events may place you in conflict with those in authority. Arguments will get you nowhere, however. Be discreet and amiable.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Mercury influences fair. But do not jump to conclusions or leap before you look thoroughly. You could get ahead of yourself; perhaps promise more than you can perform.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Concentrate on this day's needs, not interrupting your program to engage in fruitless outside activities or flighty whims. Especially favored: family matters, educational and cultural interests.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Solar influences now fan the fires of enthusiasm for dedicated purpose, popular enterprises, sociability. This should be a day to remember.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A day for watching and waiting, yet it calls for action sufficient enough to keep you from getting bogged down with doubts or indecisiveness. Routine matters will fare best.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): If the game is not worth the candle, drop out immediately. If what you planned has merit, however, back it up staunchly. Wisely separate the significant from the trifling.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Avoid extremes. Hold the line against confusion and chaos. Seek experienced counsel, if stymied in any undertaking.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): In dealing with superiors, associates—especially members of the opposite sex: Patience and tact! An excellent period for capitalizing on your ability to make smart moves.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You may be surprised at the lack of opposition in areas where you had expected it. Use this advantage to achieve in some special way that will strengthen your hand.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Tendencies to avoid now: restlessness and scattering energies. Don't make agreements impulsively but, on the other hand, remember that "little ventured, little gained." Good judgment needed.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You may run into some opposition and ill will, but don't "fight back." Counteract by being your most ingratiating self. It will work wonders!

YOU BORN TODAY are a logical thinker and a confirmed believer in direct action as the best means of getting things done. And, where there is no rule, you will set one, often changing to your liking a longstanding method. Virgo is a zodiacal area of great activity, will power and a high regard of the truly beautiful. You could succeed as an artist, in almost any medium; as a singer, writer or designer. You have been insight into the ways and means to success and know how to control the reins. Master yourself and you can attain really lofty heights. Birthdate of Henry Ford II, Amer. industrialist.

Donkey Power

NUNEATON, Warwickshire, England (AP) — The customer was $60 shy of the full $2,880 price of the auto he wanted to buy.

In part exchange, he offered Roger Hext a donkey — a five-year-old model called Neptune.

Hext parked the donkey in the forecourt of his garage until he could find it a home.

A Watchbird

FRANBOROUGH, England (AP)—A bird is being used here to protect some of the world's most advanced aircraft. Lachlan, a falcon, was assigned the duty of keeping other potentially troublesome birds away from the local airfield.

Up, Up And Out

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesian Broadcasting Corporation has banned the record "Up, Up and Away" from its general service six years after the tune was released. There was no explanation.

The age attributed to the oldest of the first moon rocks brought back to earth by the Apollo 15 crew is 4,200 million years.

Table with 2 columns: Time and Program. Rows include Tuesday and Wednesday schedules for various channels like NBC, CBS, ABC, and local stations.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — "Give Me Liberty," the first of seven historical dramas the 3M Co. is bankrolling as part of the American bicentennial binge sweeping TV, makes its national debut tonight.

A request: Please be patient with it, because it's one of those maddening shows that is wretched at the start, hokey at the ending and reasonably well done midway through its 90 minutes.

The series, transmitted nationally by the Hughes Television Network, stars Robert Culp as a sort of American Everyman participating in major turning points in this nation's history, from 1774 to the late 19th century.

In tonight's show, he's Robert Freeborn, an itinerant peddler making his rounds in valleys of Virginia in the turbulent months preceding the first shots for freedom from British rule.

While packing his kit bag full of ribbons British-made needles and seditious ballads, he tells the audience he supports no cause except selling his wares.

Then he boards his horse and is off. He's promptly attacked by marauding Indians, one of whom hangs onto his neck even as he gallops to the safety of a log fort inhabited by Scottish settlers.

Richard Kiley is on hand as the chief Scot, muttering in his beard against the King.

There's a shocking scene in which the Indian is slain trying to escape. But the show doesn't move from awful pageantry to reasonable drama until Culp checks in with George Washington at Mount Vernon.

The Washington role is handled well by Fritz Weaver and the scenes at Mount Vernon — involving slaves, discourses on sedition and the Continental Congress — are fairly interesting and entertaining.

Alas, the show slips back into pageantry when Culp later meets with two of the nation's founding fathers — Samuel Adams and John Hancock — and warns of British troop movements in Boston.

The British do come, there's a brief skirmish at Lexington which Culp watches but doesn't participate in. He finally decides to cast his lot with the rebels regrouping for the famous fight at Concord, Mass.

The show, beautifully photographed by Peter Eco, could have been infinitely better had scriptwriter Ernest Konoy eschewed bad history book dialogue that even a second-grader might chuckle at.

Maybe the next show will be improved.

Blacks Involved In Arts Festival

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — At least 71 nations have registered to participate in the second World Black and African Festival of the Arts and Culture, to be held here in the fall of 1975.

A government announcement said, however, only 15 countries have so far paid the required $10,000 registration fee.

Pickaway County Health Column

Happiness is double parking on Court Street. Happiness is knowing everyone in the bank by their first name. Happiness is leaving your house unlocked while you run to the store. Happiness is sweet corn dripping butter. Circleville has been happiness for a great many people for a great many years. Circleville is still happiness!

The question is, will our city and county continue to be happiness for the generations that are sure to come?

From the standpoint of the health departments that proposition would probably rate only even odds with the

Armstrong Seeks Funds For Highways

State Senator Harry L. Armstrong (R-Logan) recently held a meeting to try to have the interest earned on highway monies credited to the highway fund. Currently, this interest is credited to the general fund.

Representatives of the Treasurer's Office and the Office of Budget and Management attended the meeting. The Auditor of the State was also invited, but failed to send a representative.

As a result of this meeting, Senator Armstrong expects the Treasurer of the State to determine if this change in policy can be made without further legal action. Although traditionally all interest has been credited to the general fund, the Ohio laws are vague as to which fund the money should be allocated to.

Since so much highway construction that is vital to Southeastern Ohio has been halted, Senator Armstrong has spent over a year trying to obtain more money for the highway department.

Armstrong explained his position, "The citizens of Ohio have voted taxes for the purpose of supporting their highway system. I believe all of this money, including the interest earned on it, should be spent for this purpose."

If Armstrong is successful, substantially more money will be available to the highway department. According to last year's figures, $4.3 million would have been transferred from the general fund to the highway fund.

If used with matching funds from the federal government, this $4.3 million could generate four or five times this much for the highway department.

"With Gilligan finding a tax surplus of $124 million this year and tax commissioner Robert J. Kosydar predicting a $100 million tax surplus next year, I see no reason why we shouldn't transfer this small amount of money from the general fund to the highway department where it will be a real service to Ohio's taxpayers," concluded Armstrong.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

Students attending Ohio's public and private colleges and universities have been given additional time in which to apply for Ohio's Instructional Grants. The deadline for application has been extended to December 2, a move prompted by the realization that new students often arrive on campus unaware of the availability of these grants, and when they learn of them the deadline has already passed.

The Ohio Instructional Grant program is scholarship aid award based upon the students family income. Grants for students attending private colleges range up to $1500 per year, while for students attending public schools the grant may be up to $600. This lower grant for public schools reflects the already heavy commitment of state funds to public institutions which help to keep tuition and other costs at these schools lower than private school rates.

The grant program is in an unusual financial status — the General Assembly provided $21.3 million for grants this year, and to date only $17.3 million has been used for award grants. This means that almost $4 million of scholarship aid in Ohio is available without any applicants to whom to give it.

It is hoped that the extension of the deadline will invite eligible recipients to apply for grants to help them with their college costs.

A campaign to curtail shoplifting was jointly announced this week by Atty. Gen. Brown and the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants.

Brown, who will serve as campaign chairman said they will use publicity aimed at young people. He said that more than half of all shoplifting, 53 per cent, is by children not yet 18. Brown said those estimates are from the FBI and indicate as many as one out of three teenagers will steal from a business at least once.

The campaign will point out the tougher new penalties for shoplifting that the legislature wrote into Ohio's

Childbirth Prep Classes Planned

Classes for preparation for childbirth open to area expectant couples will begin Thursday at Berger Hospital from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

The six week course includes an introduction to childbirth, covers the anatomy and physiology, the stages of labor, how a woman can cope with labor and how her husband can help her, plus a brief discussion of the baby and its care.

Advance registration may be made with Mrs. Patricia Meyer at 474-4410.

Ohio Girl Killed In Kentucky Crash

CORBIN, Ky. (AP) — Carroll Combs, 16, Bethel, Ohio, was killed near here Sunday night when the motorcycle on which she was a passenger collided with a car on U.S. 25.

Clayton Eades, Amelia, Ohio, the motorcycle operator, was treated and released at a local hospital.

new criminal code this year. It will also stress "the crushing effect" a criminal record can have on a person's life.

The code provides that a theft of $150.00 or less can bring a fine of $1,000 or six months in jail, or both, and one that involves more than $150.00 can result in a sentence of up to five years and a $2,500 fine.

The cost of an average item taken by a shoplifter today is about $28.00, compared with $2.00 just a few years ago. Since the stores alone cannot absorb the entire cost of shoplifting, the consumer also feels the burden of this crime. In Ohio the average cost of shoplifting to a family is $150.00 a year, and a 20 per cent increase in this figure is expected by next year.

Governor Gilligan joined this week with representatives from Ohio organized labor to salute the working men and women by designating September 27 as Ohio Labor Week.

The progress of our society during the history of the State of Ohio can only be attributed to the men and women who have dedicated their lives to working to build a better Ohio in a better America as a most precious legacy to leave their children and the generation to follow.

During the week in which the annual observance of Labor Day occurs — a holiday which was initiated in Ohio by an Ohio U.S. Senator in 1894 — it is fitting that all Ohioans join in saluting the men and women who are solely responsible for improving the quality of life for all citizens during our long and eventful history as a State of the Union.
